Setback for Women's Lib in Daly City?

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Ms. Gloria Steinham, where are you now that Daly City womanhood needs you?

Actually, only two very pretty and very young women could use the famed women's libber at this time, but this need may spread if Daly City Attorney Albert Polonsky's recentuling on females playing baseball holds up.

A minor flap has developed over two sky's recent ruling on females playing baseball—playing baseball in the city's Police Pee Wee League.

The League is co-sponsored by Daly City and the Police Athletic League and is made up of youth in the 9-10 age bracket. Until this year, boys had a stranglehold on the sport.

But, of late, girls have taken more than a passing interest in the game.

Karen, voted the Spiders' "Most Valuable Player" by her teammates, and Julie, sparkplug for the Bobcats, are pioneers in the best tradition of women's lib.

Coach Dale Wright and wife, Jeanne, are rightfully proud of their daughter's ability at the game—at least for the time being.

However, the ominous ruling of the City Attorney may cut short any future ambitions Julie, Karen and other young girls may have at baseball.

Polonsky feels that girls should not participate in contact sports with boys because of the "physical distinction" of girls.

And he feared for the girls' well-being by pointing up the fact that they could suffer more physical injuries in the game than boys, not to mention the possibility that some boys could get carried away by Mr. Cupid on the playing field.

The baseball strike zone for a 10-year-old girls is similar to boys. Problems develop in this area as the girls grow older, it was explained.

Polonsky said physical injuries, or possible suits based on allege molestations on the playing field, might result in the city becoming liable "for acts that might occur allowing the two together."

While this "third party responsibility" hasn't happened as yet, there are two cases pending: One involves a $2 million lawsuit against Daly City concerning a woman crippled for life in a two-car crash. The plaintiff alleges a policeman stopped a group of youths that had been drinking. Rather than apprehend the car's driver, the officer let him go. Shortly after the youth smashed into the woman's car, fatally injuring the youth and critically injuring the woman.

Another case had to do with a bartender who gave a drink to a man who was already under the weather. The man left the bar and smashed into another vehicle causing death and injury. A jury found the bartender and bar liable.

Such cases cause the city of Daly City to take no chances, Polonsky said.

The city attorney, who maintains he is not a male chauvinist dedicated to keeping women in the kitchen, said he is all for non-contact sports for both sexes such as ping-pong, billiards, checkers and chess.

"I have the greatest respect for women," Polonsky declared.

He qualified the statement, however, by later admitting:

"I am not completely for women's lib."

He would not elaborate.

Meanwhile, around the world women have broken into the fields of professional horse racing, baseball umpiring, auto racing and skydiving. In Daly City, aspiring young female baseball players must content themselves with staying on the sidelines.

Propose Big Housing Plan In Daly City

A new "total environment" adult housing complex is expected to come before the Daly City Council in the near future for approval.

To be constructed east of Junipero Serra Freeway in the vicinity of the huge Serramonte Shopping Center, the project will be built on a 25-acre site by the REA corporation headed by development partners Roland Arnall and Robert Ives.

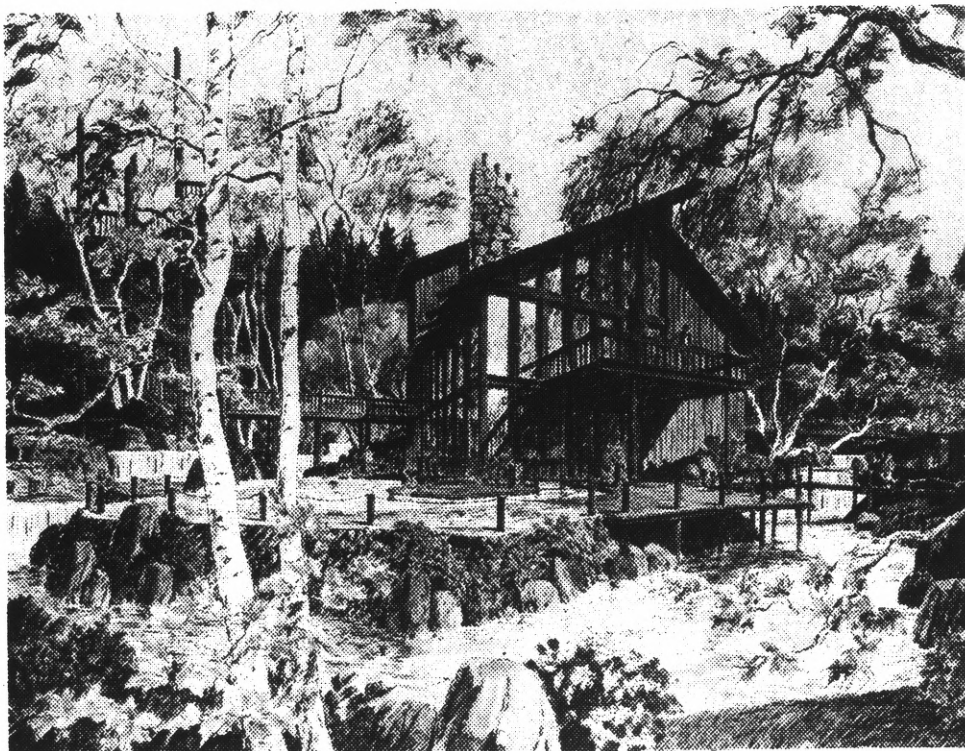

How much the company intends to invest in the 920-unit townhouse-apartment complex has not been made public, however it is anticipated the total figure will be in the millions of dollars.

Indoor-outdoor swimming pools, rushing streams flowing through the community and extensive landscaping is included in the plans now before the International Conference of Building Officials in Los Angeles.

It is feasible the project could be started within 90 days, a city hall spokesman said.

Consisting of 27 buildings (12 three-story structures and 15 townhouses) REA has designed the apartments to appeal to a highly diversified lifestyle of people, an REA spokesman explained.

Daly City Planner John Walker called the planning a totally new approach to use of the area. Formerly, the Duffel Corporation had envisioned highrise office-commercial structures on the site.

The developers said they will furnish 24-hour security at the site, thus minimizing the need for local law enforcement patrols.

Addition of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District station in the city, the close proximity of freeways and the short drive to International Airport make the location ideal, its developers say.

Area Property Owners Face Heavy JESD Tax Rate Boost

Taxpayers in the Jefferson Elementary School District may get a hefty tax rate increase if the proposed 1972-73 budget accepted by the school board remains unchanged.

The budget as it now stands is up some $900,000 from last year and would need an estimated 16 cents per $100 of assessed valuation to meet it.

Pending figures, such as state school allocations, plus figures from San Mateo County on assessed valuations in the district, will have an impact on whether this anticipated tax rate hike goes up or down.

Trustees and administration say they have pared down the budget requests submitted by various departments and only the necessities remain.

Superintendent Frank L.

Greenwood informed the school board that the substantial raise in the budget — to more than $10 million — is due primarily to costs determined by "agencies outside this school district."

Salaries of classified and certificated employees is likewise pending. This, too, will have a substantial impact on the overall budget and tax rate, it was understood.

Greenwood said the district would know by August 2 what the assessed valuation figures are.

Meanwhile, a new project establishing opportunity classrooms for children needing special problem supervision is expected to get under way during the new school year.

In order to carry out this program, a five-cent levy on the tax rate will be implemented.

This would raise some $75,000. First priority under the proposed program will be for "borderline children," those children who do not qualify for other such programs, Greenwood explained.

Greenwood said the district is "real neophytes in this ... we're trying to cover both ends of the spectrum."

One member of the audience, Mrs. Maxine Abe, said she was "all for this program" and asked the board if they could obtain more funds by raising the tax rate levy higher than the proposed five cents. The measure will save taxpayers money in the long run by preventing a child from becoming a juvenile delinquent and, subsequently, a burden on the public tax rolls, Mrs. Abe said.

On the question of paying qualified volunteers to teach classes for one dollar a year, or allowing them to work free, Mrs. Abe was told that aids for the program would be selected from a list of specially trained persons. However, her idea on volunteers would be looked into.

Trustee Edward Tomasello noted it costs about $8,000 to institutionalize a person who has gone astray of the law. And families of these persons usually end up on welfare.

Many are "very gifted" and need to be encouraged along the right paths, Trustee Dorothy Adams said.

It was made clear the new classes are not "discipline classes."

The measure passed unanimously, with Trustee Beverly Forrester absent.

DC Police May Retire At Age 50

A new pension pact which will allow Daly City police to retire at age 50, instead of the previous age 55, was approved by the city council Friday.

The council agreement to lower by five years the retirement plan came at the so-called "midnight hour" of negotiations.

The budget new year begins today and police were the last holdouts in the months-long series of citywide negotiations.

But, police paid a price for the new plan — lieutenants and captains receive no wage hikes, while patrolmen and sergeants will get a minimal 2.9 per cent and 2.8 per cent, respectively.

The new retirement plan is already in effect for the California Highway Patrol and San Mateo County Sheriff's Office.

The system will require the city to budget $68,000 each year. Police say it will not cost the taxpayer more money because the department's higher ranking men agreed to a "no raise" contract and the lower ranks accepted a minimum raise.

A last ditch effort by police dispatchers for a salary increase and expanded fringe benefits failed.

The council granted the city's nine dispatchers a 3.5 per cent pay hike, increased dependent medical coverage, an expanded disability plan and a new dental plan.

Dispatchers Bruce Wightman and John Etherton presented the plea for the dispatchers.

DC Takes Another Look at Mt. San Bruno Annexation

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Daly City has taken another look at San Bruno Mountain — this time with the thought of annexation in mind.

Several months ago Daly City informed the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) it did not want to be considered as the Mother City for the mountain.

City Manager David Rowe said so in a brief statement before a LAFCO meeting held in the Daly City City Hall last year.

Brisbane and South San Francisco let LAFCO know they would gladly take the mountain and provide the loving care it needed to develop.

Crocker Land Company, developers of the vast open space, made public a report favoring the bayside city of Brisbane as the community most likely to succeed.

They plead their plan before the same public meeting of LAFCO.

But a recent change of events — mainly the position of San Mateo County and Crocker in outlining plans for a 1,040-acre park on the mountain — has persuaded Daly City to take another look, Rowe said in a letter to LAFCO in June.

This park (520 acres to be purchased by the county and 520 acres donated by Crocker), plus the fact that Westbay Associates do not intend to develop their acreage on the southeast section of the mountain, are responsible for this reconsideration on the part of Daly City, Rowe said.

The land remaining under consideration for development is entirely within 1,000 yards of Daly City properties, Rowe points out. This makes it practically a part of the county's second largest city already, the city manager feels.

There have also been feelers out concerning a substantial apartment house development on Crocker lands overlooking the Mission Street "Top of the Hill" area.

Rowe said the city already has reservoirs in the development area.

A proposed high school site south of Guadalupe Canyon Parkway, which runs between Daly City and Brisbane, has been turned down by the Jefferson Union High School District.

The development will locate along the north side of the parkway. It will include small commercial businesses, such as grocery stores and service stations, along with a mixture of high, medium and low-cost housing.

"It is our conclusion that no other public agency could provide the full spectrum of municipal service as efficiently and mutually beneficially as the city of Daly City," Rowe's letter stated.

"With the substantial limiting of the potential for development we believe that an annexation agreement could be reached with the property owners at the appropriate time in the future," he said.

An Increase In Assessed Value Told

Assessed valuation of property in San Mateo County subject to taxation increased by 6.8 per cent for the 1972-73 year over last year, County Assessor Jack H. Estes reports.

The total assessed value of taxable property in the county amounts to $2,074,169,396, an increase of $132,141,118 over last year, Estes said last week. Assessed value is set at 25 per cent of market value.

Estes said the increase, more than he expected, is attributable to business inventories, which he stated are "on the upturn," and to market prices which "continue to rise faster than anticipated."

Some of the biggest increases in Half Moon Bay, which (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

Serramonte Principal Is Selected

Anthony J. Trujillo, 41, has been appointed principal of Daly City's Serramonte High School.

Trujillo, now principal of Alvarado Junior High School in Union City, was chosen from among three candidates by trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District.

Supt. Edward D. Morgan said a screening committee made up of teachers, administrators and non-teaching representatives initially reviewed 30 applications.

Trujillo replaces Louis J. Martin, who is being reassigned to district office duties.

Morgan said Trujillo "comes very highly recommended."

A native of Colorado, Trujillo holds degrees from the University of San Francisco and Immaculate Heart College of Los Angeles. He is working on his doctorate at Stanford University.

He began his teaching, in English, Spanish and social studies, as well as coaching, at Newhall schools, moving in 1960 to Palo Alto High School where he taught photography, English and handled some coaching chores.

Trujillo was dean of students at Newhall and director of student activities at Palo Alto.

In 1969 he was assigned to Jordan Junior High School in Palo Alto as assistant principal.

He went to Alvarado Junior High as principal last year.

Prior to his appointment to the Alvarado principalship, Trujillo's resignation was rejected by Palo Alto school officials. A leave of absence was granted instead.

The leave was extended to cover the coming term, although formal resignation will be given both the New Haven Unified School District, of which Union City is a part, and the Palo Alto district, Morgan said.

Shipley: Local Boy Makes Good

Pacifica Police Capt. Ray Shipley is going back home to Eureka — as that city's police chief.

Shipley, who will head Eureka's 48-man department beginning August 1, said he is "really excited about going home to be chief."

Although born in Guatemala, Shipley was raised since age three in Eureka, graduating from high school there in 1951.

The 39-year-old policeman was the top pick of 180 original candidates statewide vying for the post. Shipley said the Eureka council confirmed his appointment at its meeting last Thursday night.

The happiness and excitement of the new appointment did not shade the praise Shipley had for the Pacifica Police Department.

"Pacifica's department has given me every opportunity to develop professionally," he said. Shipley received his bachelor's degree from San Jose State last year, and has been working on a master's degree since.

He said he will undoubtedly continue working toward that degree at Humboldt State, where he originally started college many years ago.

"I hate to say it's like a boyhood dream. But it is," said Shipley. "I'm excited about getting my children (he has four) to the area where I grew up. Where there are green forests and a blue sky. It's a nice place to raise children."

Outside of 14 months as a military policeman in Japan with the Marine Corps, Shipley has spent all his law enforcement career with Pacifica.

After three years in the service, he returned to Eureka and started college at Humboldt State, before transferring to San Jose State. Then in 1969 he joined the police department, continuing his education on a part-time basis.

The Pacifica Police Department has produced three chiefs (counting Pacifica's Mel Nelson) from the city's original nine-man force.

Now Shipley leaves for his home town.

"That's not bad (to produce three chiefs) for a small department," said Shipley. "I think it says a lot for the community."

ALICE TOBLER

Redwood City Beauty Is 1972 'Dream Girl'

Alice Tobler, "Miss Redwood City," was chosen last week as "Miss Fiesta Dream Girl" for the 1972 San Mateo County Fair. Miss Tobler was picked from a curvaceous crew of 15 in a "Carousel of Color" pageant at the County Fair exhibit halls.

She is 18, five feet, seven inches, with brown hair and blue eyes. Her measurements are 36-24-36.

"How do I feel?" she said moments after being crowned. "Oh, terrific. I'm almost speechless."

Miss Daly City, Carole Borelli, was chosen second runner-up, and Miss Menlo-Atherton, Blythe Bulmore, was chosen first runner-up.

Miss East Palo Alto, Rosalind Thomas, was named the Fiesta's first "Miss Congeniality," a selection made by the girls themselves.

As master of ceremonies, Mike Cleary, called out the winners, the girls broke into squeals, and hugged and kissed each other with shared excitement.

When Miss Tobler was named winner of the evening's big prize, the swarm around her was so tight that the waiting state senators, assemblymen and supervisor from San Mateo County could not for a moment present her with the robe of office, her trophy cup, her sash, or her crown.

New Date for Recycling Collection

The Skyline Environmental Action Committee announces a change in the collection date of the Serramonte Recycling Center to the second Saturday of the month. Recycling centers at Mission High School and the Balboa Baptist Church in San Francisco will also now open the second Saturday beginning on July 8. The change was instituted by directors of the three groups to avoid future three-day holiday weekends created by the recent United States holiday bill.

The three recycling stations accept many kinds of recyclable materials and cooperate on their hauling to several recycling plants around the Bay Area. Hours of the stations are from 9 a.m. to noon. Volunteers use the afternoon to complete the sorting and delivery of the items. The center in Serramonte is located at the corner of King and Skyline drives in Daly City to serve residents of northern San Mateo County. Each family is requested to rinse, sort and flatten appropriate items for recycling.

"I'm very excited," said Miss Tobler, although few of the girls had seemed nervous during the long pageant that evening.

"Had I expected it? Oh, no..." The photographers rushed in again.

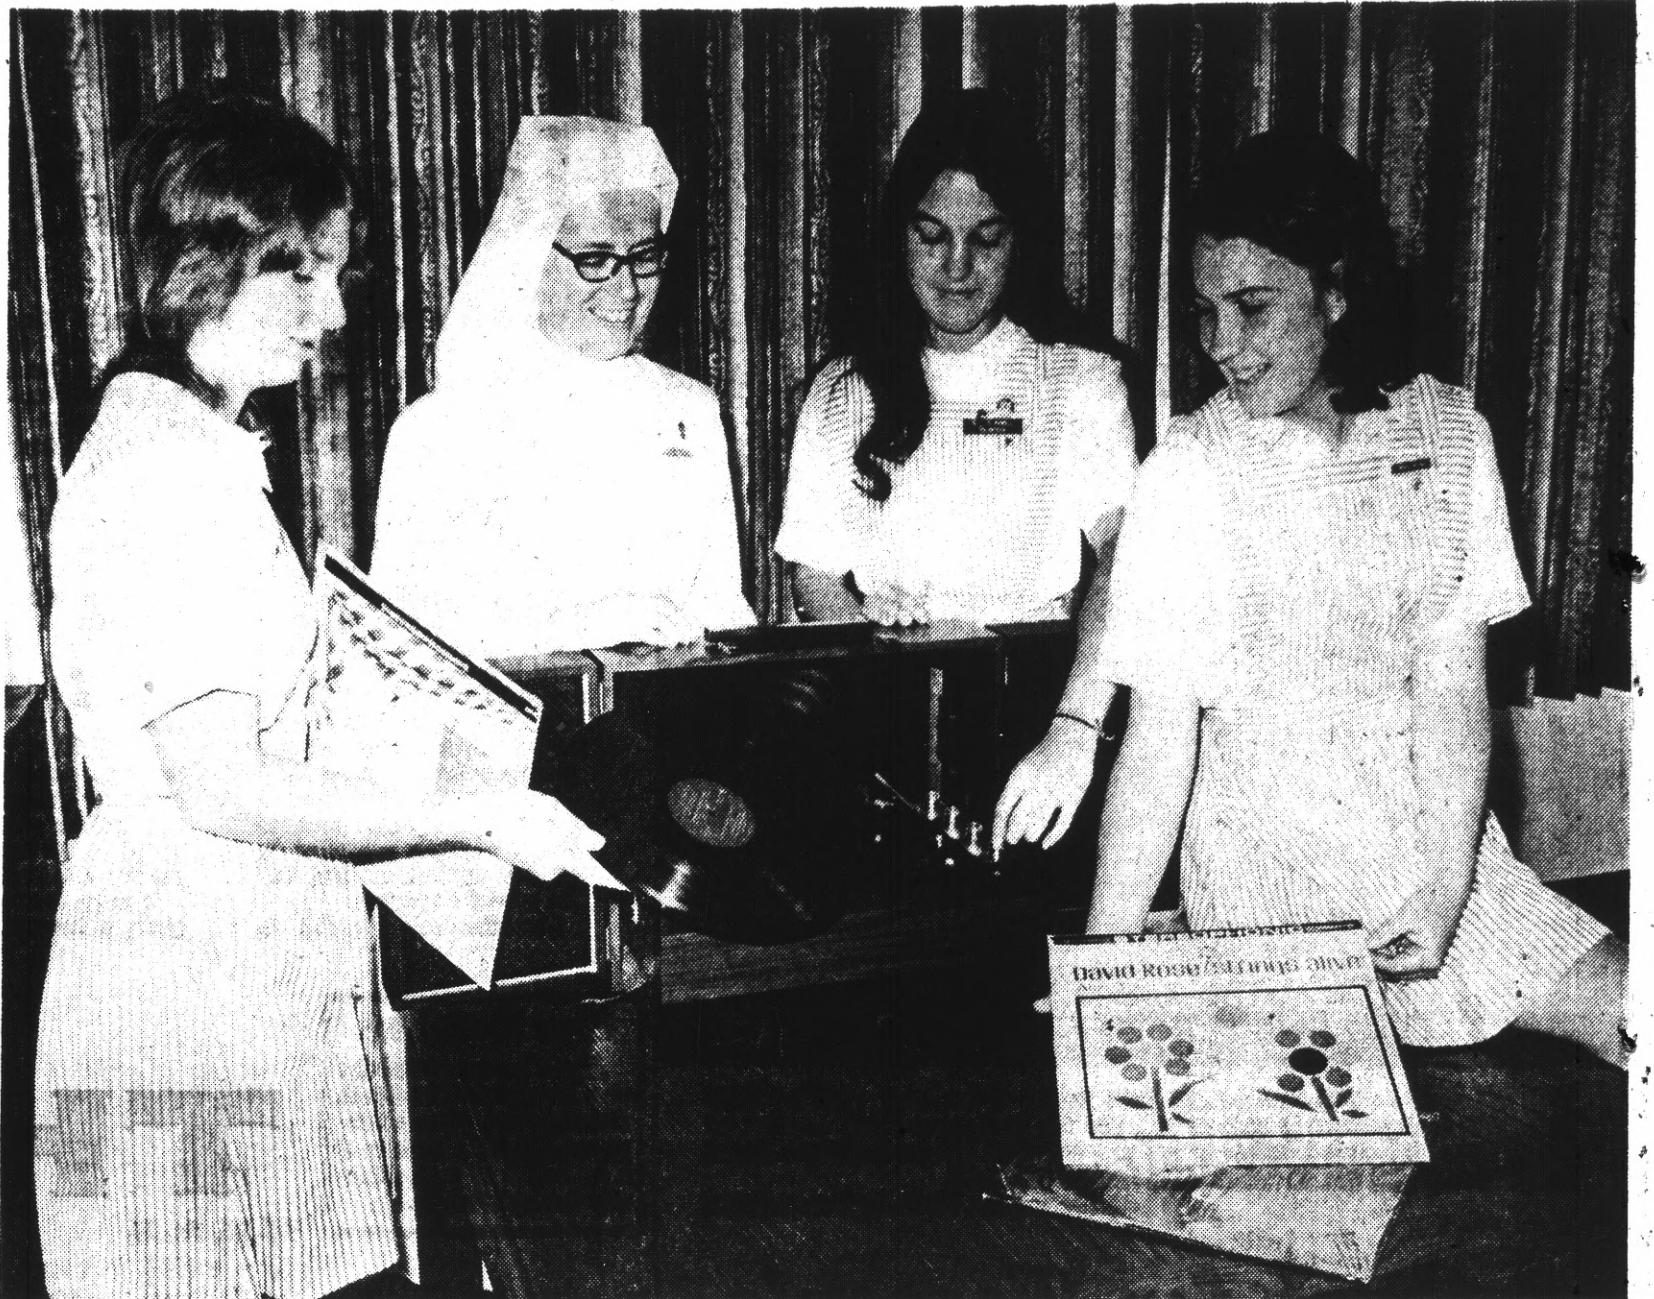

Her sister, Colleen Borg, and her mother, Mrs. Alicia Leaming, moved aside, wiping tears from their eyes, and smiling bravely.

"I'm terribly excited, too," said Mrs. Leaming. "Just overjoyed."

"That's my sister, my baby sister," wept Colleen.

"There is no talent display in this show and she's loaded with talent. She has the talent to go far, and this is a way of showing her she can do it."

They said Alice is a girl who gets what she wants, and was determined to win the "Dream Girl" contest.

IT TOOK several months of hard work for the Volunteers of Mary's Help Hospital to finally complete their project. The project, which was started almost a year ago, was to buy a record player for the Extended Care Unit of the hospital. The Volunteers took part in several activities in order to earn enough money. Among their activities were record raffles, a car wash and a mini-carnival. Sister Phillip, the occupational therapist of the hospital, requested the record player for the Extended Care Unit after a donation of records was received long ago. Finally the floor has a record player to go along with the records. Shown are (left to right) Kathy Krutz (Mercy High); Sister Phillip; Celeste Rowell (Westmoor); Ruth Gigli (Jefferson). jumped more than $2.5 million, and Colma, which escalated more than 8.5 per cent, were attributed to assessment review and, in the case of Colma, to new commercial activity.

In fact, Estes reported, most of the increase in assessed valuations is attributable to the continual review of property valuation in the county.

He noted that the valuation of property in the county's unincorporated area dropped by nearly 12.5 per cent, primarily because of the incorporation of Foster City. However, Foster City contributed more than $41 million to the county total as an incorporated city.

All of the 19 cities in the county showed increased assessed valuation, which is used as a basis for establishing tax rates.

The county's tax rate will not be set by the Board of Supervi-

The increase reported by Estes ranges from just under 1 per cent in Redwood City to a high of just over 26 per cent in Half Moon Bay.

The percentage increases for the cities:

The unincorporated area showed a 12.49 per cent decline.

Powder Puff Derby Teams Streaming In

Eighteen of the 101 teams entered in the 1972 Powder Puff Derby had arrived at the starting point at San Carlos Airport by Friday, with the heavy influx expected to begin at noon Saturday.

Inspection of planes has begun and will continue until Wednesday to make sure they are all fully stocked less than 10 years old and with engines of 145 to 450 horsepower.

The deadline for entry arrival was 5 p.m. Monday for the annual cross-country race, which will start Friday at 9 a.m. with Toms River, N.J., its destination 2,616 air miles away.

Of the 195 women entered, only 11 plan to fly solo. The rest will go in teams, which include two former two-time winners and last year's champion, Gini Richardson of Yakima, Wash. One team is from Germany.

Winner of the race, which should last through July 10, will receive $5,000, with $7,575 to be split among the next nine placers. The race deadline is 6 p.m. July 10, with winners to be announced at a July 12 banquet in Toms River after each plane's time has been computed against its own best rated performance and other racers in the complicated handicapping system.

This week will be a busy one for the contestants. Pilot credentials and aircraft log books also will be checked by today. The final two days before the

There also will be several receptions, fashion shows and luaus in the girls' honor and a tour of a Boeing 747 at San Francisco International Airport.

New organic hair remover

Hair's off in minutes, stays off for weeks.

Leaves skin beautifully smooth, free from hair... without shaving, waxing, using messy creams or foams or resorting to electrolysis.

There is now a new way to remove unwanted hair completely from face, arms, thighs, legs, wherever — and keep it off longer. You use a gentle, odorless organic compound, called Delila, and the results are simply sensational.

Delila actually lifts out the whole hair from the follicle... leaves your skin beautifully smooth and free from hair for weeks.

The little extra time Delila may take at first won't matter once you find that you can really forget about hair removal... yes, for weeks.

There are no blunt ends. No prickly stubble, no nicks or cuts. And there's no quick grow back. When hair eventually does come in, it seems sparser and baby soft.

Delila™ Natural Organic Hair Remover. Ideal for teenagers, too. $5.95 at our cosmetic counters.

No Walkout, S.S.F. Muni Aides Decide

By BOB PETERSON

There'll be no strike in South San Francisco's municipal government.

Instead there'll be a dual effort to investigate the possibility of making South San Francisco a charter city with a "true" civil service system.

These decisions were made June 25 shortly before noon in a stop-work meeting at Santo Cristo Hall.

The employees agreed to accept a revised city proposal that union representative Frank Gillis called "a far-reaching agreement." The vote, however, was 75 to 47 for accepting the proposal.

Under the agreement the city will not contract or subcontract present employees' jobs. Any future subcontracting can become a matter for mediation. And all employees were guaranteed they would not be laid off, as were the six employees of the engineering department which became the basis of the strike threat.

It was promised that the jobs these former employees were offered with VTN (the private firm that became the Department of Ecological Development in the reorganization) would be valid, backed up by promised severance pay for "bad faith" release of any who accept a position.

Job security quickly became the issue with the employees. This strike threat did not include police or fire, although firemen gave moral support.

The San Mateo Central Labor Council postponed the giving of strike sanction at their meeting Monday night. This fact also upset numerous employees, who blamed Gillis for it.

The matter of strike sanction was postponed for a determination by the executive session of the labor council, scheduled for Friday night. Gillis told the employees they could not get sanction before then. But his main thrust seemed to be for them to accept the city's proposal, according to several reports.

Gillis pointed out that the employees have a "no-subcontracting clause" protecting all employees now with the city. But the moral support for the six laid-off engineers was something each individual would have to vote on. Their jobs could not be negotiated.

All employees involved received letters from City Mgr. Gale Dresbach pointing out that by law they could not strike and the consequences, including dismissal, if they did.

The employees reportedly will be back at work without fear of reprimands.

Gillis said the employees are "unhappy with the new city council." He said the change was "not one beneficial to the employees of the city."

JEFFERSON GRAD

SAN ANTONIO — Airman Alvin E. Hetzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Hetzer of 298 Oliver Street, Daly City, has completed his U.S. Air Force basic training at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for training in aircraft maintenance. Airman Hetzer is a 1972 graduate of Jefferson High School.

Pacifica Council Asks Adobe Study

Pacifica's council last night asked the county for a land-use study, particularly concerning access, on the Sanchez Adobe property as a possible county library site.

Meeting with Laguna Salada School District trustees, both public bodies found that a county library on free land was the desired goal.

The only problem, as it appeared, is that the city feels that the Sanchez Adobe site, on county-owned land, is the best location.

While the trustees for more than a year now have been considering that, regardless of whether the Adobe site is the best choice, it might benefit the entire community if a closer look was taken at several other sites offered free by the district.

It took some comments from a woman in the audience to prompt the passage of the motion by the council that entrance and exit, possible street widening in the area, and other related work should be studied. Even though Councilman Nick Gust said that this would automatically be done.

"I'm frustrated," said Lydia Azevedo, adding that she favored the Adobe site.

"How are they (the county) going to widen the street without endangering the trees? That's a bottleneck roadway. They'll have to encroach on the grass that gives the Adobe its setting. That's really going to take some finagling."

Trustee Sid Loran said that as far as procedural matters with the county are concerned the school board is "very unhappy" with the county.

Loran described as "incomprehensible."

Mayor Grace McCarthy said she did not want to box the county in to a point where the city was dictating what the county ought to do regarding its own library.

"What the school board does with their resolution is up to them. The council has taken its stand," said Councilman Aubrey Lumley.

Farber said Sanchez Adobe was first choice because "the city wanted to let the county know the city in no way intended to purchase additional land, and the fact it's centrally located in Linda Mar Valley."

Gust said he hated to see the matter of library location being "blown out of proportion" and he said he thinks it has been.

"I don't think there could be a better place," said Gust.

He said that the information the county submitted saying the school board's library site offers were undesirable because of their location and size was arbitrary.

"That information isn't true," said Loran. "What the county has done is to give us an answer that is untrue and arbitrary."

He noted that although the council and not the school board has total authority in the matter he wanted to know "why are we as a public body not entitled to an answer?"

Gust's reaction was that "they (the county) don't respond to you and you're upset."

Gust and Farber said they thought it was clear why the county did not want the school sites, as outlined in a report

Midway May Hire

Commissioners of the Housing Authority of San Mateo County have decided to explore the possibility of hiring a staff member to oversee the Midway Village redevelopment in Daly City in lieu of contracting for the service.

Glen Weman, authority director, said the board was informed by a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Renewal official June 25 that HUD funds may be available to hire a production department staff member for at least a period of one year.

This, Weman said, would permit the authority to handle the redevelopment project directly from its own offices rather than having to contract with an outside agency for the work.

A decision must be made "soon" on the matter, Weman said, so that the project can get under way.

Meanwhile, the authority and 14 maintenance workers, members of Local 829 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, are still deadlocked over negotiations for salary increases and additional benefits.

The maintenance workers walked out last week and began picketing the authority's Midway Village development and the authority offices in San Mateo. A restraining order was obtained by Weman after garbage truck drivers refused to cross the picket line.

Pete Marion, business representative for the union, said that employees are observing the order, but are not reporting for work so that they can maintain informational picketing.

Boxing Champ Is 1st 'Male Stewardess'

A former Irish boxing champion has become the first "male stewardess" to work for Hughes Air West.

"It is my contribution to men's lib," said Anthony "Tony" McMahon, 26, a San Jose bachelor who was once welterweight boxing champion of the Irish Army and later lightweight national amateur boxing champion of all Ireland.

"The training wasn't as easy as I thought it would be," he admitted, "but now I'm looking forward to my first flight assignment."

McMahon will be temporarily assigned to flights from Seattle, then returned to duty at San Francisco International Airport.

He is one of 15 "flight attendants" to be graduated today by Hughes Air West, from the only stewardess school operated locally.

Mayor John J. Murray of San Mateo pinned the wings on the graduates, aided by Irving Tague, Air West's vice president and general manager.

Highest scholastic ranking in the class went to Sandra J. McLaury, 26, a San Francisco brunette. Lynne Polzoni, 20, of San Carlos, and Linda R. Collins, 23, of Hillsborough, were the only San Mateo County residents among the graduates.

Location of the proposed 1,040-acre park and open space area south of Guadalupe Canyon Parkway on San Bruno Mountain received the endorsement of the San Mateo County Planning Commission.

In its recommendation to the Board of Supervisors, the commission also is including a proposal by the Save San Bruno Mountain Committee that the county investigate the possibility of acquiring the 40-acre "soggy-boggy" area of the headlands of Colma Creek on the north side of the expressway adjacent to the saddle area.

The commission complimented the co-chairwomen of the committee, Mrs. Mimi Whitney and Mrs. Bette Higgins, for their presentation urging acquisition of the additional property as a "buffer zone" between the park-open space area and the anticipated residential development.

Several persons urged that the commission recommend preservation of the entire mountain for park and open space use.

"The proper thing is to save the entire mountain... (and) explore with San Francisco the possibility of making an urban park," said Mrs. Olive Mayer, a Woodside conservationist.

Commissioner Robert Levy commented that the commission does not make policy... "that's up to the Board of Supervisors".

Levy ended up voting against endorsing the park-open location.

"This is the first time since I've been on the commission where open space is set aside before we have seen a tentative plan (for development)," he stated. "We should have all the facts before we go into it."

Rich Not as Rich Today

George P. Rich isn't this morning — rich that is! A youth gang held the South San Francisco man up in the parking lot of a Daly City supermarket about 11:45 Thursday and took his wallet containing an undisclosed amount of cash.

Rich told police three black youths and an Oriental youth approached him in front of the Geneva Mayfair Market near the Cow Palace.

One of the youths, about 15 years old, pulled out a handgun and ordered the victim to hand over his valuables. The gang fled towards San Francisco after the holdup.

Robber Hits SSF Market

A South San Francisco market was robbed Thursday of cash and checks by a man wearing a yellow coat and red trousers who used a clerk's car for his get-away.

First police reports of the incident at Paradise Market, formerly the Brown Bear, at Hillside and Linden avenues, were that $1,000 in cash and $3,000 in checks was taken.

The suspect was last seen northbound on Hillside Boulevard, police said.

Arrest Three

South San Francisco police detectives have arrested three persons and charged them with sale of marijuana from Alphonso's Tavern, 100 Grand Avenue.

Booked were two bartenders, Rodney Lee Anderson, 28, and James Gordon Young, 34, and South San Francisco resident Thomas Eugene Heath, 22.

3 of 4 OK Bypass

A survey taken by County Engineer S. H. Cantwell Jr., indicates that a majority of property owners of the Montara-Moss Beach area find the current plans for the routing of the Devil's Slide bypass acceptable. Cantwell states in a report to the County Board of Supervisors.

The survey was requested by the board last February after it voted to deny a request of citizen and conservation groups that hearings on the bypass routing be reopened.

Cantwell said that about 1,600 questionnaires were mailed to all property owners of the Montara-Moss Beach area, with nearly half being returned. Nearly 75 per cent of those answering indicated they were in favor of a freeway interchange to serve Montara, with 70 per cent signifying that they were satisfied with the proposed location of the interchange at George Street in Montara, the engineer reports.

"It appears from this survey," Cantwell says in his report, "that the sentiment of the majority of property owners of the Montara-Moss Beach area is to accept the plans for the route as they are presently proposed."

The "yes"-no" questionnaire asked:

1. Are you in favor of a freeway interchange to serve Montara?
2. Are you satisfied with the proposed location of the interchange at George Street?
3. If answer to No. 2 is "no," what location for the interchange would be more satisfactory to you?

Cantwell reports that the response to No. 1 was 595 yes, 179 no; the response to No. 2 was 544 yes, 218 no. Those answering question No. 3 favored Half Moon Bay Airport as an alternate location for an interchange (48), with Sunshine Valley Road second (30), followed by Martin Creek (15) and Drake Street (9).

The engineer recommends to the board that in view of the survey, it authorize him to notify the Division of Highways of the acceptance and of the county's desire to proceed with construction at the earliest possible date.

He notes, however, that the project currently is the subject of litigation, with the Sierra Club having filed a suit in Federal Court to block construction.

3,300 Enroll At Skyline

Skyline College has reported a dramatic reversal of the downward trend in educational participation per capita. Expecting a total of 2,900 students, day and evening, for summer school, it finds it has already enrolled 3,300.

There were about 2,900 last year. A Skyline spokesman said today there are still a few classroom openings in art, business, history, psychology, sociology, home economics, music and English.

The registration deadline is noon, Friday, he said.

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

Last week's column was devoted completely to chicken recipes. This week we will consider a variety of recipes, ranging from blueberry cake to fancy lamb chops, also cookies made with pudding mix added to intrigue you.

The lady who gave me this berry cake recipe says she thinks it was in a Bake-Off. If it wasn't, it should be, for it's a winner.

VERY BERRY LEMON CAKE

- 1 can (15 ounces) blueberries, drained or 1 cup blueberries fresh or frozen
- 1 package (17 ounces) Lemon or Pineapple Batter Cake Mix

Since these cookies call for a pudding mix, you can change the flavor by changing the mix. I used a butterscotch mix and found this variety delicious. I'm sorry to say that I can't remember how many cookies you get from this recipe, but I think around three dozen.

PUDDING OATMEAL COOKIES

Two-thirds cup sifted flour

1/2 teaspoon soda

1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar

1/4 teaspoon salt

1 package, butterscotch, chocolate or vanilla pud-

1/2 cup shortening

1/4 teaspoon vanilla

1 cup rolled oats, uncooked

1/2 cup chopped walnuts

In mixing bowl sift together the two-thirds cup flour, half teaspoon each soda and cream of tartar and fourth teaspoon salt. Add the one package pudding mix, half cup shortening, one teaspoon vanilla and one egg. Beat until smooth, about two minutes. Fold in the one cup rolled oats and half cup nut-meats.

Drop by rounded teaspoonsful onto lightly greased cookie sheet. Bake in 350-degree oven 10 to 12 minutes or until golden brown.

Lamb is a great favorite in my family and in most families I'd guess. Finding a recipe that uses lamb chops in a new and attractive dish pleased me and once you've made it you may find your family requesting it again soon.

FANCY LAMB CHOPS

4 shoulder lamb chops (about 1-inch thick)

4 thin lemon slices

4 onion slices

4 tomato slices

Garlic salt

Seasoned pepper

Trim all fat from chops. Arrange the four chops in a shallow baking dish. Top each chop with a slice of onion, lemon and tomato. Sprinkle generously with garlic salt and seasoned pepper.

Cover tightly with foil or lid. Bake in 350-degree oven about 45 minutes.

Uncover and bake about 15 minutes longer. Serve each chop with some of the seasoned pan juices. Makes four servings.

Louanne Heath

The start of summer is a time for ceremonies, graduations, promotions, weddings and, in many a household with teenaged boys, it is a time for Eagle Scout ceremonies.

Scouting's highest award, the eagle rank, has long been considered a yardstick against which boys are household with teen-aged boys, it is a time for Eagle pin in a young man's lapel immediately marks him as a dependable, hard-working and honest youth who is able to accept leadership duties or follow directions with equal aplomb.

The question arises, what happens to a youth after the pomp and ceremony of an Eagle Court of Honor. Is scouting finished with him and is he finished with scouting? Often that high point in a scout's career marks the end of his scouting experience.

The young man is given a ribbon, a certificate, a wallet-sized card, and a hearty handshake. Friends send tokens of their esteem and the scoutmaster tells everyone what a pleasure it has been to have the fledgling eagle in his troop. When the commotion dies down the Eagle has flown the coop and may never again be seen in the company of his fellow troop members.

For their first 15 years scout leaders worked primarily with those who were on the eagle trail and not with those who had completed that effort. Several attempts were made to find a means of enticing Eagles to play a more active role in the overall scouting program but the efforts were half-hearted, lacked imagination or failed for want of a positive program outline.

Finally, in April of 1925 Raymond O. Hanson, a man with a distinguished career in youth work, called together 10 Eagle Scouts for the purpose of evolving an on-going program for Eagles. Hanson was, at that time, the Scout Executive for the San Francisco Council. He, and the young men he assembled in his office, were intent upon formulating some sort of a program which would sustain the interest of older scouts and encourage them to continued participation in the movement and in leadership within the scouting framework.

What emerged from that gathering was a new branch of the scout movement to be known as The Knights of Dunamis. The name Dunamis was derived from a Greek word denoting power and was to signify the increased power of Eagle Scouts through knighthood, a power which the founders conceived as a force to be used for the good of scouting and the well-being of others. Where other efforts of this type had failed the Knights of Dunamis approach caught fire and chapters sprang up throughout the United States.

According to Orion Hill, ex officio National Knights of Dunamis historian, it was a direct result of that small meeting in San Francisco that many young men have found a means to make attaining Eagle rank the entryway into an expanded program of service to others.

Boy Scout councils which sponsor Knights of Dunamis chapters permit the chapters considerable leeway in the unit approach to community service. Some chapters maintain uniform banks for local scouts where used, but still serviceable, uniforms may be traded for new sizes or types. Most chapters are eager to assist with merit badge counseling on an individual or unit basis. In such cases a chapter will send teams into posts, packs or troops to teach any of the scouting skills and help boys earn merit badges.

Many chapters have ceremonial teams which provide color guards for civic or scouting activities of which will take part in or conduct courts of honor for any scouting unit requesting such a team.

"KDs" are on hand to assist with the opening and closing chores for the scouting districts' summer camps, they will turn up to usher at council dinners and annual Eagle Scout banquets. They will send teams to any scouting unit which feels the need for leadership training and will conduct classes for adults and youth leaders. According to Hill, any scout unit which feels it needs help of any type will find the local Knights of Dunamis chapter willing to assist.

In the search for organizations which would be willing to sponsor Boy Scout units the "KDs" are sometimes called upon to discuss scouting and its importance with persons considering becoming involved on the sponsorship level.

Fortunately for this area, the Knights of Dunamis have attracted the talents of several exceptional young men. In addition to Hill who is the associate adviser of the Silverado chapter and the San Francisco chapter, a former National Knights of Dunamis commander and an active worker on the national committee level, the north Peninsula is the home of the current commander of Knights of Dunamis, Chapter 1, Craig Markinson, and that chapter's treasurer, Dave Moore. Other officers of that unit are Dave Brennan, Dave Heran, Martin Dreiling and Fred Hartwick.

The north Peninsula unit will host the 1972 Western Workshop for all eagle scouts, whether or not they are affiliated with a Knights of Dunamis chapter, which will be held on August 27, 28 and 29 at Camp Royanah. According to Markinson the weekend will be devoted to a discussion of the newly established National Eagle Scout Assn. and to developing a fellowship among Eagle scouts within this locality. (Eagle Scouts wishing more information about this event should contact Markinson, 186 Camelia Drive, Daly City, 94011.)

Anyone interested in recruiting the Knights of Dunamis to aid with any scouting or civic program is urged to call or write the nearest chapter for more information. In the north Peninsula area, contact Craig Markinson, commander, Chapter 1, 186 Camelia Drive, Daly City, or chapter adviser James G. Mull, 3037 Quintara Street, San Francisco, 94116, or write the San Francisco council office, 5228 Diamond Heights Boulevard, San Francisco, 94131.

As a footnote to this report Hill indicates that at least three of the 10 founding members of the Knights of Dunamis are still living and two are known to be in the Bay Area. Ted Blockley is now in San Francisco as is Elmo Cope.

The third survivor of that elite group is Clement Schnabel whose current address has been lost but whom Hill believes now is residing on the Peninsula. Should you know the whereabouts of Schnabel please have him contact Hill, 88 Chestwood Drive in Daly City so that the "KD" records can be brought up to date.

D.C. Police

Simmer Down

DALY CITY POLICE are simmering down after the long talks on that 50-year-old retirement plan okayed by the city council last week — hours before the June 30 deadline.

What made them hot under their collective collars was the talk around town that there would be a substantial hike in the property tax rate to pay for the "early retirement." Nothing could be farther from the truth, they said. Fact is, according to the cops, the city owes them about $82,000 for overtime work performed in the past. Instead of paying them, the men druthered the city put the money into the retirement kitty. In the future, however, the added money will have to come from the annual budget. This is offset to a degree by the top police officers (lieutenant and captain) not getting a pay hike this year.

THE CITY IS the first to actually implement the plan. San Mateo City Council approved a similar retirement, but has yet to put it into effect. Both the California Highway Patrol and San Mateo County Sheriff's Office have the plan. Cops feel that nowadays when they reach the 50-year age bracket they have a hardtime swinging the old riot stick. (Added note: There are NO such police-sponsored programs on telly as "Beat the Press" or "Mace the Nation." Strictly rumors.)

SURE THOSE DOGS make messes, and we're glad that cities are putting into effect ordinances dealing with this nuisance. But how about that HORSE that ambles up Alemany Boulevard in Daly City and fouls the sidewalk near Poinsettia Drive almost weekly? Wouldn't be surprised to see a herd of water buffalo drifting along one of these foggy mornings.

IT COST HIZZONER Frank Blum about 50 bucks to set 'em up at the Cypress Hills bar after sinking a hole-in-one on the fifth the other day. He did have a couple of witness, albeit they are a bit shakey and would probably not hold up well under cross examination. NOT that we don't think the judge got a hole-in-one. After you've been playing the game as long as he has, and have learned all the in's and out's like he has, you deserve to hole out from the tee.

SICK CALL DEPT. U. R. "Jack" Kendree, nuthers-wise known as "Handsome Jack," back on the job after surgery. Can't keep a good man down... unless of course you happen to be Mrs. Jack K. She's the one who grounded the World War One flyer after we told of how he was still flitting around the skies in Half Moon Bay about four years ago... Jeff High School District's Glenn South back in hospital for a checkup. Talk about a golfer: After Glenn underwent rare heart surgery a few months ago he popped back onto the Lake Merced golf course in late May and carded a 91.

PROUD PAPPA is Supervisor Jim Fitzgerald. His son, James III, graduated from Hastings Law College and goes for his bar exam next week. Jim's other son is learning the ins and outs of the real estate business. Does this mean the supervisor is heading for retirement and letting his son take over the San Bruno business, or is he heading for, well, where son Jame's legal knowledge will be required? Only kidding folks.

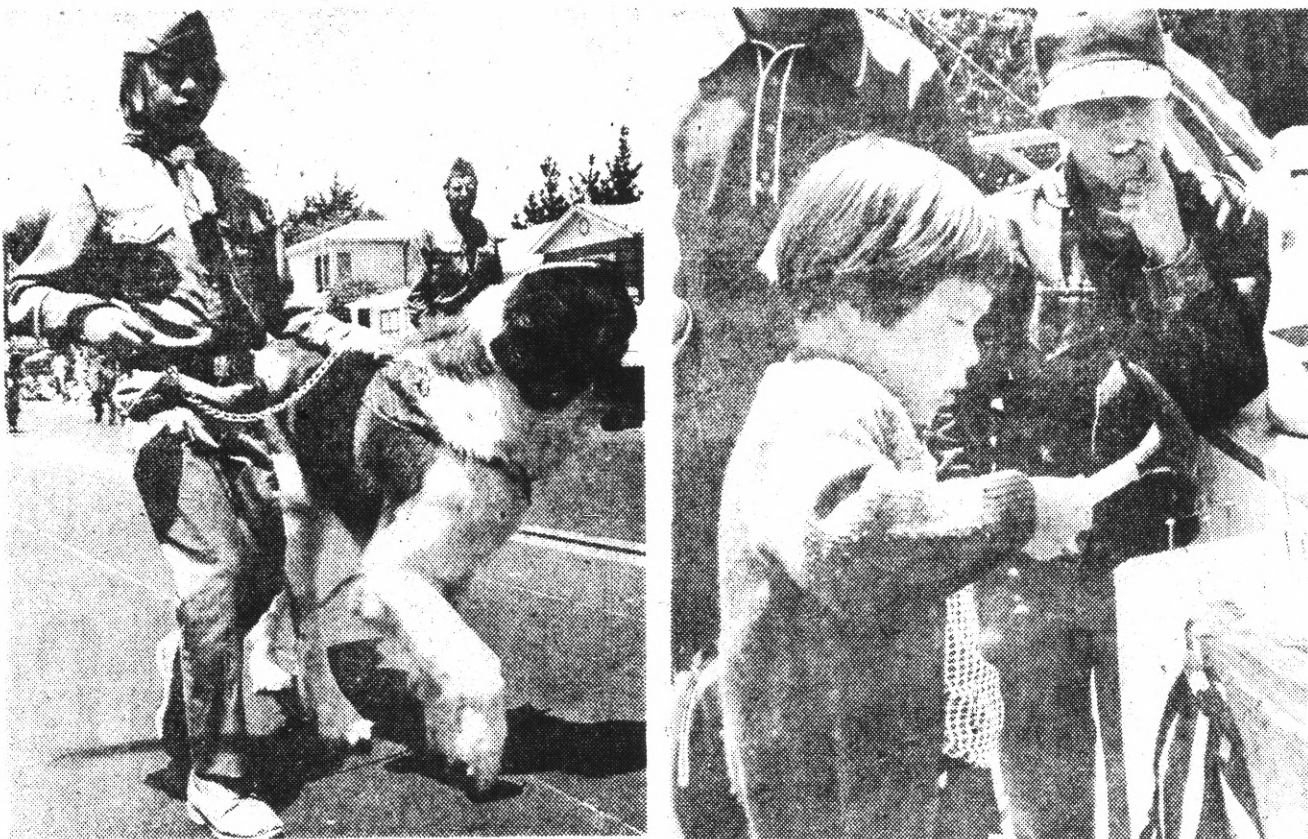

WHILE FITZGERALD was in Washington, D.C., last week he cornered Congressman Paul N. "Pete" McCloskey on support for federal funds needed for mass transit here. McCloskey said he would do what he could. Fitzgerald is pressing for two-thirds federal funds to build rapid transit from Daly City to Menlo Park. The National Supervisors Association meeting was the occasion for his travels back east at this unlikely time of the year. It's HOT in D.C. in June.

MRS. JA'QUELINE COLLUMS, the South City mother of three children stricken with a rare fatal disease, is being pushed out of her rented home not later than July 15. She was supposed to move out by June 1, but the County Housing Authority has been unable to locate a three bedroom, or a four bedroom, home for the fatherless family, according to Bob Hagen (347-4031) at a price allowed by HUD. So, while other folks are concerning themselves with vacations, Mrs. Collums will be trying — probably in vain — to keep her family together under one roof.

SOUTH CITY COUNCILMAN Bill Borba is certainly gone mod. The other day he had a very nice outfit on. All red, with green socks. WOW!

OUR SOURCES TELL a flap has developed over publishing of the D. C. Redevelopment Agency Advisory Committee bulletin in English and Spanish. Proponents of the bi-lingual notices say it helps the city's many Mexican-Americans who do not speak English. Opponents, including Mission Merchants Association president Vince Merlo, counters there are other ethnic groups in the city. If these other minorities must learn English to get by the daily routine why not the Mexican-Americans, Merlo wants to know. Why not we echo?

Better Business Bureau

By LORENE BEHSLEY

QUESTION: A stock boy erroneously marked some cans of nuts 15 cents instead of the correct price of 51 cents. The cashier noted the mistake and advised the customer that the can of nuts had been incorrectly priced. The customer insisted that the store was obligated to sell the nuts at the marked price. Was the customer right?

ANSWER: No, this was an honest mistake and the store was not obligated to sell at the low price. Today, many customers are conditioned to cry "fraud" before they determine the facts. Such was the case last weekend when a drugstore advertised a special on toothpaste. Greedy customers grabbed all the coupons, although a customer was permitted only one, and messed up the display. Notices were posted, explaining the offer would be back in operation in a few hours — as soon as replacement coupons could be obtained. That did not deter the old, familiar "fraud" cry from several who did not bother to read the offer, the notices or the explanation, or ask the manager.

QUESTION: Why must I pay for a new tire and alignment charges after driving my new car only 12,000 miles?

ANSWER: Car manufacturers warrant only what they produce and do not have control over how you drive and park, or the condition of the roads you drive on. The new car warranty excludes the manufacturer from this responsibility so that you should get periodic alignment checks and do your own frequent visual tire inspection.

QUESTION: Does the Better Business Bureau accept complaints over the phone?

ANSWER: No, the Better Business Bureau does not accept verbal statements from persons alleging mistreatment in a business transaction. These matters must be given to the Bureau in writing on a special form designed for this purpose or a letter setting forth the allegations, including proof to substantiate charges.

Pleasant Path or...?

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Eucalyptus and pine trees shade the pleasant looking pathway that meanders between Wilshire Court in Daly City to the San Francisco County line.

It is more than a shortcut for persons wanting to catch a bus into San Francisco or Stonestown — it is, in most cases, a respite from the automotive world whizzing along Interstate 280 a few yards away.

But for some in recent months it has become an instant nightmare, an adventure they will not soon forget.

Glimpses of the plush San Francisco Golf and Country Club through the trees that closely line the winding cement pathway provide a temporary escape for the city dweller.

The trees likewise provide shelter and the golf course a route of escape for criminals.

It is an ideal spot for the would-be rapist to perform his dastardly deed.

Within the past year two women and an elementary school child have been molested in daylight hours along the pathway.

A San Francisco Water Department employee coming to the aid of a rape victim was himself held up and robbed by a young gunman last month.

Daly City police captain David Hansen said his department has issued warnings to residents who use the path.

But the genteel appearance of the 1,000-foot long secluded walkway hides the misery that sometimes lurks there and people ignore the warnings.

Hansen suggests that Daly City and San Francisco work together to have some of the brush cleaned out along the path.

He also thinks a chainlink fence along the full course of the pathway should be erected. Presently, such a fence extends along the path for only a few yards on the golf course side. On the highway side a fence extends the entire length of the walkway.

No one seems to know who built the pathway, or exactly when.

Hansen theorized it was constructed by the State Division of Highways or San Francisco Water Department as access to water lines that run through the area.

Whatever the reason for the pathway, its infamy grows with each new victim it claims.

SECLUDED CITY PATH — Misery often awaits the walker along this shaded tree-lined path between Wilshire Court in Daly City and the San Francisco County line. (Post Photo by George Brookes)

The Rights In Democracy

As we mark the birth of our nation, let us turn to some words by an American educator, "Modern democracy maintains that all men are free and have not only the right but the duty to take part in the government of their country."

"Let us not forget," Professor Edward Power continues, "The first and probably the most important principle of democracy is that every person has worth and dignity. Each personality deserves respect."

With this ideal behind his government, modern man can create a culture far different from any that the world has known. The much heralded democracy of Greece permitted but ten per cent of the population to rule while ninety per cent of the states inhabitants were slaves. During the Middle Ages the majority of people were not slaves but were serfs attached to the land. Modern democracy spins around an ideal expressed by Professor Power, "The individual has a right, within the general framework of social and legal limitations, to be himself; he is value because he is a man and a member of the great brotherhood of man."

THIS PRINCIPLE, at least as an ideal, has always been recognized by thoughtful Americans. As a result America — with her short-comings recognized — subscribes to these words, "Equality as a democratic principle means that individuals must have equal opportunities to achieve their potentialities." Furthermore equality means that men are equal in creation "with each being endowed with sufficient means to work out his own salvation."

This means, Professor Power says, "that the burden of making equality a vital force in the lives of all men... is achieved through attitudes of good will rather than through law itself."

Securing and protecting equality is primarily a responsibility of each person and of his government. While this responsibility has not always been fulfilled, it is an ideal that has led Americans to establish some basic principles that most Americans enjoy. These are listed by Professor Power as freedom of the press, freedom of assembly, freedom of petition, and freedom of worship.

Rule by the governed is possible when these basic principles are remembered. "Only then may the representatives of the people be guided by the citizens. If citizens function as their own governors, they must be informed and educated; in a democracy opportunities for education must be widely and richly distributed."

July is a good month for reading the works of thinkers such as Professor Power. His book is entitled "Education for American Democracy."

July is a good month to recall the truth contained in George Brimhall's verse.

"Help me to know
My rights turn in Where other begin."

Conventions Going Out?

National political conventions are an endangered species, and this year's conventions could be the last of their kind. Founded neither in law, nor the Constitution, conventions have not always been the way we have nominated candidates and have no immutable claim on the political process.

George Washington was twice chosen by the means contemplated by the Constitution, which merged nomination with election. The succeeding eight elections (1795 through 1824) marked nomination by party caucus in Congress and choice of electors by popular vote in the states. In 1828 the major nominations were made in a state convention in Maine and in the Tennessee legislature. Only after that did national conventions appear, and then for eminently practical reasons — they were a good way to gather support for candidates and to launch campaigns.

The years between 1832 and 1860 saw the simultaneous emergence of the two party system and of nominating conventions. Formal national party structures were first created by the Democratic Convention of 1848 and the Whig Convention of 1852 when National Committees were created for the purpose of running things when there were no conventions in sessions.

Now all this may appear as old and irrelevant history to the current of immediate events. Not so. For the convention and party systems will undergo strains and tests in the forthcoming July convention in Miami Beach that could further evolve the way we elect Presidents and change party alignments as they have existed since 1932.

The mechanics of the approaching Democratic Convention are markedly different from those of the past. The McGovern rules, the enlarged number of delegates, the presence of huge numbers of previously inexperienced participants alone make this convention unique. Add to these changes the sharp philosophical conflicts between contending factions and hard contests between candidates, and the clash of new methods and old forms will come into sharp focus.

In part, the new way is a groping effort to democratize the convention process. Inclusion of minorities, the young, and women is one means of forcing conventions to become more representative of the population generally.

Whether it will work in practice is subject to question. As we have seen, changes in convention rules and guidelines have not been paralleled by election laws. Thus, the rationale of the expensive "winner take all" primary election in California is in dramatic conflict with the new way. George McGovern's dilemma (for his own delegation in practice and for the process of democratization in theory) is not remarkable under the circumstances. Also caught in the watersheds is Mayor Daley whose adherence to former ways is not surprising.

Much has been made of the fact that this convention will not be brokered. There will of course be leaders or brokers but the delegates will probably be more free and less subject to influence than in any prior convention. Certainly the abandonment of the unit rule enforces this consequence.

While this may be attractive in theory, in practice it could be chaotic. The Democratic Convention will have 3,016 delegates. In some way those working together must communicate. How? Thrown together of a few days in the midst of mass confusion, they will find this unbelievably difficult. Walking a convention floor can be hard work even in a structured convention in which leaders are known to one another.

In recent years some candidates have employed elaborate electronic systems to count votes and to communicate. Floor personnel have used walkie talkies and special phone circuits that have enabled constant flow of information from those seated in the convention to central locations situated in trailers just outside the hall. These means, however, depend upon leaders who can lead and speak for blocs of votes.

Conventions also work most smoothly when there are few floor votes. Historically, non-nominating roll call votes have been used as test votes or for delay. This year's Democratic Convention may find an unusual number of such votes with many held to determine issues on which there is sharp division as to principle.

The truth of the matter is that democracy and conventions are not ideal companions. The principal virtue of the convention system is that it has, in the main, produced men of suitable stature as nominees.

Be Careful With Your Trust

By GEORGE GOLDING

"Don't trust your employees or your customers," seemed to be the message from a recent seminar on crime against businesses.

Held at the Airport Marina Hotel and sponsored by the San Mateo County Development Association, the talks ranged from the economic impact of crime (billions), to methods of preventing thefts by employees and slowing the passing of bad checks by customers.

The day-long gathering was attended by some 100 local businessmen, including officials of "Identicator," a Peninsula firm dedicated to reducing businessmen's losses by taking thumbprints on every check or credit card purchase slip.

Jeff D. Owen, Bank of America's assistant chief special agent for bank security and loss investigation, told the listeners that credit card losses to banks in California last year amounted to perhaps $400 million.

During the same period, he said, losses from bad checks totalled $125 million and "fraud or sundry losses" amounted to $25 million.

He advised merchants to "never trust a stranger" when it came to cashing checks, "because not all strangers are crooks although all crooks are strangers."

Owen said merchants should always require multiple identification, never standardize on what would be acceptable as identification, and avoid second-party checks, out of town checks, and checks written for more than the amount of purchase.

Check passers today, he said, are "related to violence and the drug scene." Courts and police, he said, too often think of check passers as nonviolent, yet the raw materials of their craft, blank checks and other people's identification, are taken in such crimes as muggings, hold-ups, purse snatchings, and car burglaries.

"Check passers are potential killers," he said, and "the crimes are related to illegal drug traffic," as often as are holdups.

"We must trust people," he said, "we must trust our customers and our employees, but not everyone is honest. We need customer training" in the necessity for careful use of checks and credit cards.

After the meeting, Owen was asked when the banks and stores would begin requiring as much identification for the users of credit cards as they do for checkwriters. He said the banks are working on that.

Earlier, John Smith, security director for Mervyn's department stores in the East Bay, described methods used by shoplifters to make away with millions of dollars worth of merchandise each year from U.S. businessmen.

He urged merchants to "reduce temptation" to potential shoplifters by "alertness and courtesy" of clerks.

"Approach all waiting customers," he said, "keep things neat so losses will be immediately noticed, challenge people who walk into stockrooms, and carefully mark merchandise."

"One out of 60 customers will steal," he said, "if given the opportunity." He said shoplifters require two things, "merchandise and privacy."

Jessie Wagner, manager of central security for Safeway Stores, advised on methods to reduce losses by employee pilferage, and especially urged "key control."

"A shoplifter is in your store sporadically," he said, "a dishonest employee is there eight hours a day, five days a week."

In a business operating on a small profit margin, he said, one pilfering employee can quickly put a merchant in the loss column.

Local businessmen also heard discussions of the impact of such crimes against retailers and wholesalers, against manufacturers, and against the service industry. J. Jerry Jeremy, chief of the domestic trade division of the U.S. Department of Commerce, discussed the government's role in crime prevention.

Position for Dr. Gurevitz

Dr. Howard Gurevitz, program chief of San Mateo County Mental Health Services, has been appointed a member of the State Alcoholism Advisory Council.

The purpose of the council is to advise the secretary of the Human Relations Agency on the development of a State Plan for Alcoholism. According to Secretary James M. Hall, the plan seeks to assure a comprehensive, broad-based approach to the social, economic and medical problems of alcohol abuse and alcoholism in California.

S.M. Cyclist Recuperates

A San Mateo motorcyclist who drove back to his house with a fractured right leg and foot was reported recovering at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

The injured man is Richard Lewis Pullen, 25, of 335 Sonora Drive.

The accident occurred Wednesday at the intersection of Sonora Drive and Harvard Road.

Investigating Officer Larry O'Connell reported that after the motorcycle collided with a car, Pullen drove on for about 500 feet and then turned around and headed back for a couple of blocks to his house. There he told his brother to take him to Mills Hospital. He was transferred later to Letterman.

The driver of the car was identified by police as Mrs. Virginia Margaret Wallis of 405 Ran-nelagh Road, Hillsborough.

Shirt Tail For Special Dine Out Suggestions

The elegant Palo Alto Shirt Tail restaurant serves man-sized portions of Filet of Sole Meuniere and Jumbo Shrimp Saute Scampi-style. Chef Jack Hunter also offers many other delights for dinner. Strong Cafe Espresso from the Cappuccino machine and a hearty wine are table delights. Regulars also approve of the formidable drinks poured by their barmen. The sophisticated interior of A. Sabella's at Fisherman's Wharf is contemporary. From the dining room or bar one may watch the colorful, constant activity at the Wharf. Owner-host is Lucien Sabella, one of San Francisco's favorite sons. Excellent banquet facilities. . . . The main dining room of Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City seats seventy, the booths and tables are cozily arranged, and smaller adjoining rooms are equally inviting, ideal for parties. A tossed salad with a Bleu Cheese or French dressing, plus a basket of oven-hot, garlic French bread, gets the meal off to a savory start. Entrees are numerous, with Prime Ribs of Beef and Broiled Australian Lobster Tail taking the lead. We recommend the Maerd Eip (Dream Pie spelled backwards) for dessert. It's a blend of Philadelphia cream cheese and other ingredients poured into a graham cracker crust and topped with warm brandied cherries. You'll love it.

Derek M. Alldred — Future restaurant executive — Son of Richard D. Alldred, general manager of the Stickney Restaurant Chain. "Derek cut his first tooth eating Stickney's famous spareribs." Of course, his favorite pie is Stickney's fresh strawberry.

Famous Wine Authority Exposition Fish Grotto

Frank Scoomaker, the internationally famous author and wine authority, dined at the Exposition Fish Grotto and matched his menu selection with his own creation, Blanc Forme, a rare and delicious vintage Scoomaker had high praise for Bar Manager Bob Deriko's inventory of select wines served through luncheon and dinner. . . . When Frank and Fannie Torres prepare a specialty of the house, you know you are in for something unique. As owners and operators of Torres Beach Restaurant in Montara (for the uninformed, that's south of Devil's Slide on Coast Highway One), they have had years of experience in perfecting these delicacies to a supreme point. We might add that the restaurant, perched on a picturesque stretch of Pacific beach, provides a breathtaking view. An ideal complement to your dining. . . . Among prominent guests in the elegant Wellington Room of Phil Lehr's Steakery in San Francisco the other night: Charles W. Purcell, assistant vice president of Pank of America at the A. P. Giannini branch in San Mateo.

Fisherman Opening This Month

The Fisherman, an imposing new restaurant on Burlingame's Bayshore Highway, is about ready to open. The grand opening festivities are only weeks away. No one could be more pleased with the majestic structure than the owners, Salvatore Patane, his son Richard Patane, and Alfredo Scardina. Salvatore, one of the truly famous chefs in San Francisco restaurant circles, will be responsible for the outstanding menu of Italian dishes and fresh seafood specialties. . . . A great spot offering fine food, atmosphere and live entertainment is Shipwreck Kelly's Bar and Gallery in the Airport Marina Hotel. Located on the edge of the Bay, south of San Francisco International Airport, this lively Burlingame mecca is finding favor with people from all over the country. The Galley menu features steak, lobster, abalone and Polynesian specialties seven nights a week (lunch is served too). There's even a coffee shop open from 6 a.m. to 11 p.m. For cocktails and live entertainment, Gary & Chelle provide the sounds. Tuesday through Saturday, in Shipwreck Kelly's from 9 p.m. You can dance or just listen. Like to play pool? There's a new Game Room here, where leisure hours are spent listening to the juke box or watching oldtime movies between games of pool.

Bickford's Complete New Look And Menu

Foster's, the famous San Mateo "foodmark" on El Camino Real, is no longer. Instead, the restaurant's new name is Bickford's, and there is a whole new look — inside and outside. The new image, which includes a brilliant red and gold exterior, will soon be seen through the restaurant chain. Even the waitresses have new uniforms. But one thing remains the same: the quality of the food is highly maintained. Bickford's will continue to specialize in pancakes with a wide range of breakfasts, including many specials plus several entrees, salads, sandwiches and desserts. Bickford's new management wishes to stress that dining here is still a family affair, and that family dining pleasure is most important to them. Therefore, they and the courteous staff will do everything possible to make your Bickford's visit a pleasant experience. . . . Such a true old southern atmosphere prevails in the lounge of the New Southern restaurant, South San Francisco, that many displaced southerners have been known to become homesick. A Chamberlin organ is featured on weekends. Join in the sing-alongs. . . . Vic Scafani is not only involved with the operation of his successful Woodlake Joe's on Peninsula Avenue, but divides his time between the Brentwood Lodge in South San Francisco. Scafani has to be one of the busiest restaurant owners on the Peninsula.

HERE'S TO YOU — Artie Shirinian, popular day manager of B'Tween Acts, the cocktail lounge and pianobar club opposite the Geary Theater, is one of Sundry Royal's biggest boosters. Likes it himself, and is often heard to say: "Sundry Royal is the smoothest sipping whisky anyone ever tasted. It's so pure you can drink too much and not get a hangover."

Bruno Fava Is True Culinary Expert

Bruno Fava, chef-owner of Bruno's in downtown San Mateo, has been in the U.S.A. for almost 40 years, and during this time he has established himself as a true culinary expert. Homemade Cannelloni is considered one of his most famous Italian specialties. And on weekends, try his Prime Ribs of Beef. . . . As of July 5, the Mandarin Star restaurant in San Carlos will serve an "All you can eat" buffet dinner. This is a new policy here and Owner Chung Peng has placed quite a reasonable tab on the dinner. Another new addition is the 50-cent Happy Hours (4 p.m. to 6 p.m.), Mondays through Friday. . . . Phyllis Aliotti of Phyl's Perky Platter has decided to lower her prices. Beginning with dinner service July 5, the know-how restaurant owner will introduce a completely different operation. She will specialize in family-style dinners for $3.75. A la carte items will also be available. Although still located in the Kings Bowl complex in Millbrae, Phyllis has renamed her Blue Peacock food operation to Phyl's Perky Platter. . . . There's a new addition to the Garza family: A baby girl, weighing a healthy six pounds, 13 ounces, born June 15 to proud parents Marie and Manuel Garza.

Jovanelo's Elegant Italian Food

Good food, promptly and pleasantly served is a primary function at Jovanelo's restaurant in San Francisco. Maitre d' Nello Piccinini personally greets guests in this well organized restaurant; Giovanni Costabile serves your favorite cocktail and Joe Piccinini offers a menu of traditional Italian and continental dishes. A banquet room is available for special parties, and both a la carte and full course meals are served for luncheon and dinner. . . . The Mongolian Barbecue, an excellent Chinese restaurant on Twenty-fifth Avenue, has changed its daily schedule. Instead of Tuesday, the restaurant is now closed on Monday. Restaurant hours are from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. For food to take out, call 345-2187. . . . Dapper Phil Rauscher, former general manager of the International Inn Restaurant, South San Francisco, was back at his old post during the early part of last week. Now vice president of the Inn's parent corporation, Rauscher was filling in for Doug Young, current general manager and expert host. . . . An expert crew of blenders can be found in the lounge at the Red Cottage Restaurant. Owner Ken Parrett expects and receives professionalism from all his employees, which speaks well for the ownership of this top drawer Menlo Park restaurant.

New Cong. B'nai Israel Rabbi to Lead Rites

Friday night Sabbath Services at Congregation B'nai Israel will see the assumption of the Pulpit by its new spiritual leader, Rabbi Sheldon Edwards.

Rabbi Edwards, his wife Charlene, son Maxwell and daughter Riva, have arrived from Miami Beach, Fla. to lead the congregation.

Rabbi Edwards has led a long and varied career in the B'nai nate. His education includes Ordination, B.A., M.A., Fellowship and D.D. (H.C.). In addition to serving several congregations, Rabbi Edwards has participated in the activities of the communities in which he resided and has served on two Presidential Commissions on Youth, two state commissions on youth and education and two royal commissions on youth and aging. He has appeared extensively on radio and TV and has written for newspapers.

The Friday night service will begin at 8:30 p.m. and all mem-

SSF Boy Dies After Choke On a Peanut

David Chin, 11-year-old South San Francisco boy, died Monday at Peninsula Hospital of pneumonia apparently contracted as the result of inhaling a peanut into one of his lungs, the coroner's office reports.

The youngster, son of Mrs. Annie Chin, 4 Dana Court, reportedly choked on the peanut June 30, but was not taken to the hospital until Sunday after he developed difficulty breathing, the coroner's office said.

Most Derby Planes In

Two-thirds of the 101 airplanes due to arrive by today at San Carlos Airport for Friday's Powder Puff Derby air race to the Atlantic Coast were there by Monday.

More contestants were due to arrive before 5 p.m. today, closing time for entry in the annual transcontinental air race for women.

Inspections of aircraft, and checking of pilots' certifications, will continue through Wednesday.

Meanwhile, a round of social events, champagne receptions and fashion shows will continue. Tonight the visiting flyers will visit a TWA 747 and have a reception. Wednesday and Thursday mornings are set aside for final pilots' briefings on weather conditions and race procedures, and the gals will take off at 9 a.m. Friday for Toms River, New Jersey.

Among the entrants now awaiting the starting flag are two previous two-time winners, Margaret Mead and Mary Noah Hamilton, plus last year's second and third-place winners.

Last year's winner, Gini Richardson of Yakima, was due to arrive today.

The race is open to women pilots with commercial ratings and more than 200 hours of flying time, and at least one entrant has flown 20 previous "Powder Puff Derbies," and has 20,000 hours' pilot time.

Competing aircraft are production airplanes built during the past 10 years, powered by engines of 145 to 450 horsepower. The most powerful and fastest plane entered, number and a rated speed of 216 miles an hour.

The winner, however, may not be the plane and pilot that cross the finish line at Toms River first.

Bruno Planners Alter Meet

San Bruno's planning commission will meet next Wednesday instead of the usual first Monday of the month — which this time is part of what, to many, will be a four-day weekend.

The major item will be the proposed rezoning of a 13½-acre site on Sneath Lane — now occupied by Avansino-Mortensen Nursery's hot houses — from RM (garden apartments) to AR (administrative research) to permit construction of a major office building complex.

Requesting the rezoning are Congdon, Castle and Thrift Investment Company and Lincoln Property, who is developing the adjacent apartment complex, "The Place."

Also of major interest will be the rezoning of five lots on Cunningham Way from CN (neighborhood commercial) to R1. This site, former right of way of Junipero Serra Boulevard, was subject of a referendum vote in April's city election, in which the people voted to "unzone" it from planned development duplex, which would have permitted developer Bob Berryman to erect 13 duplex homes.

Pastor Tells Topic for Sunday Talk

"Acts 2, in '72" is the sermon topic of Pastor A. David Donnelly for Sunday's worship hour at 10:35 a.m. at Westside Baptist Church. Special music will be by the sanctuary choir.

Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m., the annual Junior Co-Ed Summer camp of the Northern California Baptist Conference opens at Camp Koinonia, near Watsonville.

Several junior-age youth from Westside Baptist will be in attendance and several adults from the church will serve as counselors.

Tuesday at 7:15 p.m. is Visitation time. Church members are encouraged to join a visitation team to call in homes in the community. Today, instead of the regularly scheduled Mid-Week Praise, Prayer and Bible Study Hour, the Quarterly Business session of the church will be held.

Reports from officers and committees will be given, and then the Executive Secretary of the Northern California Baptist Conference, the Rev. Carl Olson, will speak to the congregations.

Westside Baptist Church is located at 390 Inverness Drive (Fairmont) Pacifica and is affiliated with the Baptist General Conference.

Toyota Tigers Lead DC Loop

The Daly City Toyota Tigers are leading the Women's Slo-Pitch Softball League, sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department.

The Tigers closed out the Salt and Peppers with a 12-0 win. The pitching staff was headed by Kathy Honrado who faced thirty-one batters and allowed only seven hits, none of which scored. The Salt and Peppers made valiant tries at bat but even the two hits by Loretta Anderson failed to cross the plate.

The Open Road Recreation Vehicles scored their first win when they defeated Daly City Datsun-Volvo 12-3. Linda Torrez lead the Open Roaders with a two-run homer to put the Datsun-Volvo team under. Pat Scott added two three-run homers to support the Open Road cause.

Kathy McBride had two hits for three times at bat to score two of the Datsun-Volvo runs.

The Slo-Pitch League will not play on Sunday, July 2 but will resume play on July 9.

Power Failure in Daly City

A downed power line shortly before 7 p.m. Wednesday caused a power failure to approximately 2,100 PG&E customers in the Westlake area of Daly City.

PG&E spokesmen said most electrical service was restored within the hour. Cause of the downed lines was not determined.

Quick Bread Recipes for Starting Day

Homemade fruit bread and muffins help start the day. Try this quick Five Fruit Bread, plain or toasted. It's simple to make and uses canned fruit cocktail. The spicy Quick Peach Muffins are another breakfast treat.

FIVE FRUIT BREAD
1 1-lb. 1-oz. can fruit cocktail
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1-third cup granulated sugar
1-third cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
2 eggs, beaten
1-third cup melted butter
1 tablespoon grated orange or lemon rind
1/4 cup toasted slivered almonds

Drain syrup from fruit cocktail into measuring cup. Add water to make 1 cup liquid. Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and nutmeg. Stir syrup into flour mixture along with eggs, butter and orange rind; mix until all dry ingredients are moistened. Stir in fruit and almonds. Spread batter evenly into greased 9x5x3-inch pan. Bake in 350 degree oven one hour and 15 minutes. Cool in pan 10 minutes; remove from pan and cool thoroughly on wire rack before cutting. To store, wrap bread in aluminum foil and keep in refrigerator or freezer. Makes 1 loaf.

QUICK PEACH MUFFINS
1 1-lb. can cling peach slices
2 cups biscuit mix
1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon or nutmeg
1 egg
2 tablespoons melted butter
2 thirds cup peach syrup
Drain peaches saving two-thirds cup syrup. Combine biscuit mix, sugar, spice, egg, melted butter and peach syrup. Mix quickly and fill greased or paper lined muffin tins one-half to two-thirds full. Arrange two peach slices on each muffin. Bake in 400-degree oven 20 minutes. Make 12 muffins.

Shrimp on A Skewer

Butter Barbecued Shrimp on a skewer owes its distinctive flavor to lemon-flavored butter marinade that spices the shrimp with a blend of Worcestershire, onion, catsup and mustard. (In fact, lemon-butter marinade can be used successfully with any grilled fish.)

Allow time for the shrimp to bathe in the butter marinade.

BUTTER BARBECUED SHRIMP
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1/2 cup chopped green onion
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1 pound uncooked shrimp, peeled, deveined and thawed
Hot rice

In 1-quart saucepan melt butter; stir in onion, catsup, water, Worcestershire sauce, lemon peel, lemon juice, sugar and mustard. Simmer 5 minutes. Thread shrimp on skewers. Place shrimp in a shallow dish. Pour marinade over shrimp. Let stand at room temperature an hour or refrigerate overnight.

Broil 4-5 inches from source of heat about 5 minutes on each side, brushing occasionally with marinade. Serve with hot rice and remaining marinade. Makes 4 servings.

To thread shrimp on skewers: Thread the head of one shrimp with the tail curling over the top of skewer; then thread the head of another shrimp with the tail curling up from bottom of skewer. Thread the tail of the first shrimp, then the tail of the second shrimp. Repeat with remaining shrimp.

Stock Up on Beef Patties

A stock of ground beef patties in the freezer saves extra trips to the store. For convenience in meeting individual and varying demands, shape ground beef in patties and securely wrap each separately in foil or freezer film. Or place two layers of waxed paper or foil between each patty (for easy separation), place in transparent freezer bag, seal and freeze.

Burgers can be cooked from the frozen state: just place on broiler rack a bit further from the heat and allow additional time.

Salad Sundae Pleases Kids

Here's a salad sundae the kids will love. Place drained canned cling peach halves in western iceberg lettuce cups. Fill peaches with creamy cottage cheese. Sprinkle generously with salted peanuts, and pop a bright maraschino cherry on each. With cinnamon toast or jelly sandwiches, it's a nutritious noon-time meal.

Main Course Rolled Pork Sandwich of

Hearty hot sandwich creations combining meat, vegetables and sauce achieve main course importance. This appetizing combination of hot smoked pork shoulder and fresh asparagus, served open face on muffins and crowned with mustard sauce, serves as an excellent example. Follow label directions for cooking the smoked pork shoulder roll and slice the meat just before assembling the sandwiches.

LUNCHEON SANDWICH
12 slices hot cooked boneless

smoked pork shoulder roll, cut 1/2 inch thick
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon instant onion
6 English muffins, split and toasted
1 bunch fresh asparagus, cooked and drained
Melt butter in saucepan and blend in flour, mustard and salt.

Stir in milk, mayonnaise and onion and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Arrange two muffin halves, cut side up, on each plate and place a slice of hot cooked pork shoulder on each muffin half. Top with cooked asparagus spears. Spoon sauce over each serving. 6 servings.

SUMMER DESSERT
Add a jigger of creme de menthe to drained canned fruit cocktail; chill until frosty. Spoon over rich vanilla ice cream for a summery dessert.

More Meat Production

Total meat production in the United States during 1971 was a record 37.8 billion pounds, an increase of 1.6 billion pounds over 1970. Beef topped the various categories with 22 billion pounds, up nearly 316 million pounds.

Pork production was 14.7 billion pounds, up 1.3 billion; veal, 520 million pounds, down 68 million; lamb and mutton, 560 million pounds, up slightly. Total production in 1972 is expected to set new records.

Costs Drop, Relatively

The cost of food represents a declining percentage of the average American's disposable income, falling from 22.2 per cent in 1950 to 16.6 per cent in 1970. During the same period, disposable income per person increased an average of 116 per cent.

Retail value of beef consumed as percentage of disposable income during period decreased from 2.7 per cent to 2.3 per cent. Pork was even more impressive, declining from 2.5 per cent to 1.4 per cent.

Salami Cubes With Omelette

Salami omelette is a vacation specialty. Slowly brown cubes of salami in a skillet. Add 1 well-beaten egg per person. As edges cook, run a spatula around edge so that uncooked portion will run to bottom. Cut in pie-shaped pieces to serve.

Daly City Boys Claim World Ping-pong Mark

By AL QUALE
Reporters are notorious for asking the obvious.
As 13-year-old Jimmy Pedersen of Daly City neared the very monotonous 32nd hour of Ping-pong playing and a purported new world marathon record, he was asked the terrible question.
"What do you think of Ping-pong?"
"I wanted a Ping-pong set for my birthday," he replied in an almost restrained manner. "But I don't want one anymore."
The questions got worse.
"Will you Ping-pong again?"
"Yea, I'll probably still play," Jimmy said. "But no marathon," he added determinedly.
His partner, 14-year-old Danny Riley, returning the ball from across the table, was more deliberate.
"I'm not going to play Ping-pong for a long time," he said. "Right now I just want to break the world's record."

ing a half-hour break every six hours. Throughout the ordeal their schoolmates dropped in to cheer them on and a San Francisco television station recorded the final moments.
A sign outside the Riley home read: "World's Marathon Ping-pong Game in Session."
Danny's mother, Mrs. George Riley, was more exuberant than the boys.
"Both boys have a lot of pride in themselves and that's something really great," she said.
"They're both very competitive."
As the marathon ended, her son Danny said:
"I'm going to sleep. I don't know how long, but for as long as I can."
Meanwhile, another Ping-pong marathon is in progress at Capuchino High School in San Bruno where members of the 1972 graduating class started their own last night at 6. They plan to play for one week.

Surfriders Top Sea Lions in Dual Meet

The two youths succeeded in doing that at 5 p.m. yesterday, after playing a total of 32 hours and six minutes. They claim they "out-did the previous marathon record, 30 hours of Ping-pong, set by two Los Angeles youths recently."
They started playing at 9 a.m. Wednesday and continued, taking

The Surfrider Swim Team met the Pacifica Sea Lions in a dual meet on June 21, at the Carmel High School pool. The Surfriders were victorious by a score of 256 to 120.
Outstanding performances in the winning effort were contributed by:
Greg Rolan in the 8 and under age group with first places in the 25-yard freestyle and the 25-yard breast stroke. In the 11-12 age group, Connie Mitchell took the honors for the girls by placing first in the 50-yard breast and 50-yard fly. For the boys, Nick Mitchell took first in 50 backstroke. The 13-14 age group was dominated by Donna McGinn with three first places in the 50 free, 50 breast, and 100 free. Rick Rolfe contributed with the time of 54.9 for the 100 freestyle and a 28.0 for his 50 fly. Andy Mitchell's first came with a 34.6 for 50 breast, and Rick Rosenbaum with 27.0 for 50 free.

The Surfriders won 8 out of the 10 relays, took 31 first places. Twenty-three of their first places were accumulated by the younger age group swimmers.

The Surfrider Swim Team is currently preparing for their second big AAU meet this year to be held on July 8-9 at Crestmoor High School pool. This will be the team's 18th "B" meet since it was organized. San Bruno Mayor George Cory will begin the meet by firing the starting gun during pre-meet ceremonies beginning at 9 a.m.

A big membership drive is also getting underway. For information concerning tryouts for the team, contact Mrs. D. Mitchell at 583-6014.

Boldirev Signs With Seals
Ivan Boldirev has signed a one-year contract with the California Golden Seals for 1972-73. Seals' general manager Garry Young announced yesterday. Details of the contract were not disclosed.
Boldirev, a 22-year-old center, played 57 games for the Seals last season after joining the team in mid-November as a result of a trade with the Boston Bruins.

Previously, another former Bruin, defenseman Rick Smith, signed his Seals contract.

Le Pacini Giant's Discussion

Willie stopped by the Giants' clubhouse . . . and found catcher Fran Healy and pitcher Sam McDowell there . . . both unable to get into the clubhouse because a custodian had refused to open the door to them.

"Mays, getting the same reception, kicked out the glass in the door and barged in, triggering the alarm system and bringing police sweeping down on the scene. The police recognized Mays . . . and were willing to forget it. But Charles Rupert, Stoneham's son-in-law and executive vice president . . . had sent Eddie Logan, the club's equipment manager, to the scene for a full report.

"And when Logan tried to call Rupert, Willie reportedly jerked the phone away from him — all of which left an increasing disenchantment among an increasing number of those in high places . . .

"The crusher probably came on the weekend of May 30 when something happened on two successive days. Willie handed in the lineup cards at home plate prior to a double-header against Montreal, then without advertising his departure, left for the rest of the day. 'Illness' was accepted as the reason . . .

"THE NEXT DAY, Mays went to Fox and told him that Gary Maddox, fresh from the minors, was 'nervous.' The Mets were in for the opening game of a series, and Willie was not in the original lineup but volunteered to take Maddox's place . . .

"What are you trying to do? Tell me how to run the ball club?" Fox reportedly said.

"Things came quickly to a head after that. Herman Franks . . . (attempted) to smooth things over, although Herman told me last weekend that he was there on nothing more than a stock deal. Franks did admit, however, that 'there was something there' when asked whether a rift existed between Mays and Fox.

"News of the trade talks with the Mets broke in a New York paper, and Mays, now completely miffed that the club hadn't told him first, made it clear that he would never put out on the field again for the Giants. So even though the trade had not been made, Stoneham knew now that he must carry it out . . .

AN APPENDAGE: We asked a Giant representative if the Giants would find valuable an outfielder named Joe Smith, age unspecified, who could, playing three or four games a week, hit, say, 250 with 15 homers, run the bases well, and play good defense.

"Of course," said the man. "He would be a valuable player."

We then asked him if nothing about the player was changed except his name — and that it be changed from Joe Smith to Willie Mays — if he would be as valuable, or would he be a problem to the team.

There was a long pause, and then a "you said that, I didn't."

TAG ENDS: Our friend, long-time fight referee Jack Downey, thinks that Muhammad Ali can beat Joe Frazier in a rematch. He is also of the opinion that, "Ali did a lot of damage to Frazier" in their last fight.

We hate to sound like a male chauvinist pig, but our week's Gutless Award goes to would-be lady umpire Bernice Gera, who, after a winning six-year legal battle to break the sex barrier in umpiring quit in tears after her first game (without even the courtesy to finish a double-header) because, "I knew after the umpires' meeting . . . where I stood."

Pirates Take First Place

MIDWESTERN FARM LEAGUE HIGHLIGHTS

The PAL Serramonte Pirates moved into undisputed possession of first place in the Midwestern Farm League by picking up two wins last week. The Pirates clobbered the OLM Irish 47-6 and edged past the AAA Cubs 19-18. In the Pirates' victory over OLM Mark Galisatus, Frank McPartland and Mike Bigham pulled off the season's first double play. Marcus Nahunu added the offensive spark with a grand slam. The entire Pirates team, sparked by their "million dollar defense" upset the AAA Cubs.

The PAL Bobcats moved into a second place tie with the AAA Cubs by slipping past the Cubs by a score of 21-17. Mike O'Brien's bases loaded homerun was the big blow for the Bobcats.

The AAA Cubs got back on the win trail by defeating the PAL Serramonte A's by a score of 24-11. Marc Santoro had 4 hits for the Cubs, while Steve Gianni and Tony Maurino each had three. Mike Tripaldi, Rick Orquiza, Phil Rodriguez, and Marty Smith were outstanding for the Cubs on defense.

Cage Classic 'Foul' Contest For Jeff Star

By CHRIS STAVE

The Third Annual All-State Basketball Classic at the Oakland Coliseum Arena was an artistic success.

Well, at least it was close — the South really had to struggle to win this time, 124-117.

Theoretically, 22 of the best prep basketball players in the state took part. But not all the North's best five were playing when the South destroyed the Comeback-of-the-Year effort in the fourth quarter, outscoring the North 41-31.

One of the bench warmers at the time was local favorite Ken Smith, who had picked up five quick fouls early in the first half. But since the game was being played under pro-type rules, Smith was allowed six. He could have played, and his rebounding skill was needed.

All the other physical North frontliners — Pete Padgett of Del Valle in Walnut Creek, Mike Moynihan of Bishop O'Dowd in Oakland, and Glen Hubbard of Sacred Heart in the City — were in foul trouble.

But when the game was on the line — when the North started to lose its biggest lead of the night, a 97-91 bulge early in the fourth quarter — North coach Ralph Kravie of East Bakersfield wouldn't put all the good ones in at the same time.

The lack of a solid front line hurt badly in the rough-and-tumble finish.

In the beginning it looked like the biggest rout in the brief history of the rivalry (and that's going some), as the South had a 20-11 advantage with 5:38 left in the first period.

The North's fast break was embarrassingly ineffective, and they had run a single play twice — a shuffle. They didn't go as well at first — maybe they weren't scared of South center Ralph Drollinger's 7-0 height so much as they were of the fact that he has signed to play for Johnny Wooden.

The North managed to catch fire enough to close it to 30-21 in the quarter. Drollinger was out for part of the second quarter with a black eye, and the North did start to go inside. And when Drollinger came back the North was no longer intimidated.

One reason was the aggressive play of Hubbard, a 6-6 Santa Clara bound forward who had spent his high school days playing jigsaw in a very controlled offense. Last night he had a chance to fly and he made the most of it, driving through the South front to score seven second quarter points and help tie things 53-53 at the half.

Hubbard hit for 12 more in the third quarter, and guard Andy Oliveira, faking South defenders out of their baby blue trunks, also hit for 12 as the North took an 86-83 three-quarter lead.

While all this was happening, Smith sat laconically on the bench, his Jefferson warmup jacket hanging open. After he had oozed pulled in the early going, he never got back in the game, even when it was apparent that teammate Paul Marigney of McClymonds in Oakland was having an unfortunate night.

Neither Marigney nor Berkeley guard Stan Letcher (who had hit for 11 points in the first half) contributed much to that sad last quarter. Marigney did have eight points in the stanza, but there was more work to be done than that.

Oliveira continued his spectacular driving play into the final quarter but was matched shot for shot by the South's Richard Johnson, a vastly entertaining offensive player from Los Angeles. Johnson, the game's leading scorer with 33, would have had the on three-on-one breaks and hog the shot with the time running down — out it worked.

When he wasn't scoring, Steve Copp of Chula Vista was muscling his way underneath for crucial markers. Copp finished with 24 and was a super rebounder.

Drollinger's presence had some effect — he scored 21 points — but he was hardly a dominant force in the Bill Walton, or even the Sven Nater mold. Padgett said he didn't even notice Drollinger.

Hubbard was the North's leading scorer (27) and rebounder. He had said before the game that he was itching to see if he had the mobility and shooting ability to play forward. It would appear that he has.

Mustangs Edge PAL Litho Liners

Daly City Boys Leagues Near Conclusion

In the Boys Baseball league sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Division the L.B.Y.A. Mustangs edged the PAL Caulley Litho Liners 3-2. There was good pitching from both teams in this closely fought contest.

Chris Laing had a no-hitter until the bottom of the 7th inning. Marcus Jimines and Mike Price led the hitting for the Mustangs and Adolpho Sandrud contributed the power for the Liners. Edgardo Mixco went the distance for the Mustangs' win. The LBVA Pistons coached by Tom Ledda are the 1972 champions.

Mile Relay Bid By Millbrae Gals

Special to The Post

CANTON, Ohio — The girls from the Millbrae Lions Track Club took their best shots at the AAU national women's track championship.

Earlier this week the younger girls from Coach Ed Parkers' squad placed well in the girls' division: The mile relay team finished seventh nationally and javelin thrower Karen Allenby also finished seventh nationally, with a throw of 127-3.

The mile relay team — Nancy Hickman, Grainie Murray, Martha Brown and Kathy Hardeman — finished with a time of 4:01.7, their second best ever. Their finish was one notch better than they had done last year.

The same four girls decided to try their hand at the women's division mile relay this weekend, even though they're younger than most — Martha Brown, for instance, is 14½.

Lions athletes competing this weekend are: Maren Seidler in the shot put, Cis Schafer in the 880 and Lynn Cannon in the javelin. Linda Langford was supposed to go and compete in the discus, but she was getting settled in a new job and wasn't sure if she could make the trip.

Pizzamen 'Dine' on Hornets In Daly City Slow-Pitch Play

Daly City Adult Softball
In the adult slow pitch softball league sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Division the Round Table Pizza dined on the Hornets as they remained undefeated by a final score of 9 to 5. It was the 6-hit pitching of Ed Guzman and homeruns by Larry Getteli and Frank Strazzula that wrapped up the victory. Long's Drug came from a 6-0 deficit to electrify PG&E as they won the game 7 to 6. Good steady defense by both teams made this a very exciting game. Larry Ford, Paul Patrick, Chris Young and Bob Buckley kept the rally alive to give the victory to Long's Drug. J&J Plumbing pulled out their second victory 6 to 1 over the Ranch Inn.

Aide Leaves; Hoffman Goes to Pacifica

By BOB PETERSON
Seemingly perpetuating a trend of qualified people leaving South San Francisco's employ, landscape specialist John Hoffman Monday accepted the job of park superintendent with the city of Pacifica.
Hoffman's resignation, along with the fact that acting Finance Officer Carlo Bonino resigned last Friday, seems to give credence to the scuttlebutt that employ morale is at a low ebb, following recent reorganization of city government.
The move for Hoffman can be viewed, however, as a promotion in the sense that he goes from a staff officer position reporting to a city manager, to a supervisory position in charge of 20 persons.
Salary-wise, the change could be termed, at best, a lateral move. Hoffman, who is scheduled to begin work Wednesday in Pacifica, will be paid $1,216 a month. The position he's vacating pays $1,246 a month.
Hoffman said he is "delighted" with the chance to go to Pacifica. He has been with the city of South San Francisco for nearly six years in the capacity of landscape specialist, a position he said "served a useful purpose."

S.M. Council Budget Meet

The San Mateo City Council will meet Wednesday night to continue its public hearing into the proposed $11,424,299 1972-73 budget and $313,000 capital improvement program.
The council has been reviewing the budget in study sessions during the past month, and will hold another study session Thursday night, Mayor John Murray reported.

Barbara Bladen
Unknown Plays

I'm always grateful to director Robert Brauns for "doing his homework" and finding new, interesting and unknown plays for his Hillbarn Theatre. Either he ferrets one out of obscurity or chooses a better known one that has never played in the area or even outside of New York before.
"Everybody's Girl" is a gem of a comedy, written during the Lyndon Johnson era by John Patrick and as pertinent and timely a piece of light summer fare as you're likely to find on any little theatre stage.
But despite its catchiness, its potential sparkle as a modern commentary on the burden of being made a celebrity in the public eye, the production lopes and limps in the laugh department.
It can only be opening night letdown that made every bright sarcasm drop like a lead doughnut amid the hustle and bustle of an energetic cast. A seemingly alert company breezed through some of the funniest lines I've heard in years from a contemporary comedy (aside from the formula writing of Neil Simon) but in pace and impact, the good lines were thrown away, especially the bon mot witticisms of Beatrice Bundie (Jeanne Miles) who is selected as Mother of the Year when all five of her sons are reported to be POW's.

Comedy is such a delicate thing. You can't hold onto it too tightly or take it for granted. Since the lines are inherently funny, it would seem the cast didn't want to hammer them out. As it was in opening night, they weren't nurtured into bloom either and wilted on the lips.

Miss Miles as the town mayoress, cookbook author, and matriarch was so low key, in fact, she was dominated in style by everyone else on stage, none of whom had better lines.

Sam Rolph's living room set takes on the look of a burglar's storeroom with cartons and packages heralding the Mother of the Year award labeled "Mother of Pearl Buttons." "Mother Earth Fertilizer," "Mother Sills Seaisick Pills," etc.

Among the various comedic touches is the revelation that her boys were not "shot down but shot at." They were captured chasing a native girl across a rice paddy.

Patrick's play is a string of quips and fast punch one-liners that need expert timing and the emphasis someone like Joan Blondell, Eve Arden or Ann B. Davis would deliver. The mother role is a gem. She has a matchless sardonic sense of humor and no one else in the play seems to pick up on it. If I lived around someone as quick on the uptake as she, I'd be in stitches all the time. Yet everyone seemed oblivious of her wisdom and candor.

Three faultless performances that reflect the director's control were by James Sibbet as the young reporter who follows a red herring (actually a Chinese duck) and nearly chokes on the slick of life he encounters; Cheryl Lynne Loyd, the fiancée of one of the soldier sons who changes attentions in the heat of battle, and John Reinfertig who always fashions his own characters into outstanding cameo portrayals.

The good looking quintet of Eric Almen, Phil Durnell, Mike Ryan, Dan Healy and Tom Finkemeier were difficult to keep sorted. I never believed they'd been in the house before or related to the matronly widow Bundie as adoring offspring.

Topnotch performances are bound to shape up for this second weekend. It's all there but needs focus to pull out all the laughter stops from an audience that is ready and willing to share in the put-on.

Boat Mishap Kills Coastside Leader

Robert McCahon, one of the Coastside's best-known civic and business figures, was drowned in a boating accident on San Joaquin River about eight miles west of Stockton late Sunday afternoon.

McCahon, 49, of Butano Canyon Road, Pescadero, was struck and knocked unconscious into the water when the boom of his 28-foot powered sailboat swung, according to the San Joaquin County Sheriff's report.

McCahon was accompanied by a son, Robert, and a cousin, John Clemence, on the cruise in the main channel of the river. Both tried to throw McCahon life jackets, and the son jumped into the water after him but could not reach him, officers said.

Another boater, Rod Skinner of San Jose, picked up McCahon and took him to nearby Windmill Cove, where mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was attempted and an ambulance was summoned.

But McCahon was dead on arrival at San Joaquin County General Hospital in Stockton at 5:45 p.m.

McCahon was a flower grower in Half Moon Bay for many years and eventually expanded his business interests into real estate.

In recent years he had been a real estate operator in Half Moon Bay, with his office at 515 Kelly Avenue. McCahon's major real estate project was arranging for a new apartment complex on the site of the old Miramar Hotel in Miramar. The old hotel had burned to the ground in 1967.

But he was perhaps best known for his civic activities. He was on Half Moon Bay's original planning commission after incorporation in 1959 and became chairman in 1960.
In 1962 he was chairman of a state college site committee which proposed a Coastside site for a new four-year college. He also was an unsuccessful city council candidate that year.
McCahon was appointed to the County Planning Commission in July, 1963, and served on that body until resigning in December, 1970 for business reasons. He was chairman for a year in 1966-67.

He also was once a trustee of the old Coastside Elementary School District and was a member of the Half Moon Bay Chamber of Commerce, charter member of the Rotary Club there, a Farm Bureau director and a seven-year Navy veteran.

He was a native of Rhode Island and had resided in Colma and Belmont for several years before moving to Half Moon Bay in 1958.

Other survivors include his wife Lois of Pescadero; four daughters, Geneva, Janice and Marilyn McCahon, all of Pescadero, and Mrs. Barbara Marlais of Fremont; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allin McCahon of Portola Valley; and two brothers, David and A. Wilson McCahon, both of San Carlos.

Arrangements are pending at Dutra-Randleman Funeral Home in Half Moon Bay.

POLICE SCHOLAR — Sandi Jean Smock, 20, a community service officer for the San Bruno Police Department, here receives a trophy and $125 scholarship presented by the Peace Officers Research Association (PORAC), and Field Enterprises. Representing the sponsor were, at the left, Harold Goldberg, Field's district representative, and Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan. Miss Smock, a recent graduate of College of San Mateo, where she won the annual academic award for her work in police science, plans to go on to University of California at San Jose this fall to continue in that field. The Bay Area chapter of PORAC represents 33 police associations. Chairman of this year's scholarship presentation was Clifford Gerst of the San Carlos Police Department.

Millbrae Council Orders Re-Study of Doomed Project

By GEORGE GOLDING

Millbrae councilmen have directed city planning commissioners to review Joseph Karp's architectural and landscaping plans for an apartment development that the council intends to see will never be built.

Although councilmen refrained from saying so, they expected their planning commissioners to again reject Karp's plan, as the planners did earlier last month.

Karp, through attorney Joseph Geller, complained that the turn-down by the planners, had been based on a legal opinion from City Attorney Frank Gillio that the proposed project is illegal and that the Planning Commission had not considered the proposal on the basis of its architectural and landscaping merits.

Geller asked that the matter be referred back to the planning commission and that the council take a position that there is nothing illegal about the proposed project. In this manner, he said, the planners would be free to make a decision based on planning aspects only.

City Attorney Gillio advised the council to send the matter back to the planners, because it appeared that the planning commission had failed to grant Karp's plan a full hearing. He would not want such an issue to be the basis for a court decision against the city, Gillio explained.

Planning Commissioner Eugene Morasoli admitted "we did not consider the plan. We concluded our consideration on reference to the city attorney's ruling."

Gillio has told the city that allowing Karp to build the apartments he proposes, on a Millbrae Theatre parking lot zoned for apartment use, would be illegal because it would increase the "non-conformity" of the theater, which has less parking than would be required if the 25-year-old theater were built now.

Morasoli said it was this legal opinion the planners used as a basis for the rejection of Karp's plan.

Each of the councilmen indicated, but did not say in so many words, that they expect the planning commission to consider Karp's architectural and landscaping plans and to reject them. They also expect that Karp will appeal that planning commission denial to the council, and they expect to reject it themselves. They expect Karp to take them to court over their rejection, but they intend to stand firm in opposition, it was indicated.

In previous meetings, members of the council have said that they intend to block the proposed development by any means available to them.

While suggesting that court action is not necessary, Karp was accompanied by his attorney, and by a legal stenographer to record comments made during that portion of the meeting related to his apartment proposal. This has been his practice for several weeks, since the city raised questions about the advisability of allowing apartments to be built on land now used for a parking lot.

Councilmen admit that the plans prepared by Karp for the apartments are among the best ever submitted to the city.
Such a project would be a definite addition to the city, they feel, if only it did not take away parking from a business that already has less than is required.

Big D. C. Firecracker?

The first pyrotechnic heralding the Fourth of July holiday in Daly City was touched off shortly after midnight Tuesday morning blowing the windows out of a 1972 pickup truck and bowing the metal cab.

Police were unable to determine what type of explosive rocked the truck owned by Mario Retetto and parked in front of his home in the 500 block of Hanover Street.

"If it was a firecracker, it would have to be one of the largest I've ever heard of," a Daly City policeman commented.

Damage to the vehicle was extensive. No one was hurt.

Two men held up the American service station at the corner of Westborough and Callan boulevards in South San Francisco about 7:30 last night and fled in a yellow car with an undetermined amount of cash.

Ross McNair, attendant on duty at the station, said one of the men waited in the car while the other approached him, simulated a gun in his pocket and ordered him to hand over all the cash.
